

When my family had a problem, the courts were there to help

Every time an issue came up about our kids, my ex-wife and I would disagree. Finally we went back to court.

The court was a neutral place where we could work out our differences and make some decisions together about our kids.

The court referred us to mediation and then helped us finalize our agreement.

For more information about Maryland's courts, visit www.mdcourts.gov.

For legal help contact:

- Maryland Legal Aid, 800-999-8904
- Maryland Volunteer Lawyers Service, 800-510-0050
- Or see www.peoples-law.org for a complete list of Maryland legal service providers for low-income Marylanders, or to find information on lawyer referral services, pro bono programs, self-help centers, hotlines and other resources. Limitations may apply.

Maryland Access to Justice Commission

My Laws, My Courts, My Maryland

Promoting Equal Justice for All

www.mdcourts.gov/mdatjc