Anne – Commission Reprimand on April 26, 2022, for failing to represent her clients competently and diligently, failing to abide by the scope of the representation, and collecting unreasonable fees. The Respondent agreed to represent the defendants in a lawsuit but failed to enter her appearance in the case and failed to file an answer or any preliminary motions on behalf of her clients, resulting in an Order of Default.

BORGERDING, Francis Xavier, Jr. – Commission Reprimand on February 25, 2022, for failing to diligently administer an estate, including failing to timely pay the probate fee and failing to file the Second Account resulting in multiple notices from the Register of Wills and the issuance of a Show Cause Order by the Orphans’ Court. The Orphans’ Court ordered the allowance of personal representative commission in the amount of $1,500.00 and ordered the Respondent to immediately distribute the net assets to the beneficiaries and report the distribution of the remaining assets available on an amended account. The Respondent withdrew $1,500.00, representing his commissions, but failed to otherwise comply with the order. The Orphans’ Court removed the Respondent as personal representative for “willfully disregard[ing] an order of the court” and “fail[ing], without reasonable excuse, to perform a material duty pertaining to the office.” The Respondent refunded the estate his $1,500.00 commission and wrote a check to the successor personal representative for the total assets of the estate.

Prior to a hearing in a custody matter, the Respondent failed to thoroughly review exhibits and incorrectly assumed certain information was related to certain non-privileged therapy sessions. As a result, the Respondent’s paralegal filed exhibits with the court containing notes from privileged sessions in advance of the hearing, the Respondent referenced information included in the privileged therapy notes in her opening statement, and the Respondent attempted to introduce the privileged notes as an exhibit during the hearing. The Respondent’s

The Respondent failed to properly manage his attorney trust account and made numerous errors in administering a small estate, including but not limited to errors contained in documents filed with the Orphans' Court, errors in applying the statutory order of priority of claims against the Estate, errors in depositing client funds, errors in withdrawing funds, and the Respondent's overall failure to keep client matter records and ledgers.

In one matter, the Respondent failed to attend a hearing and failed to comply with an order directing him to respond to a motion to dismiss. In a second matter, the Respondent failed to communicate with a potential witness in any manner prior to designating her as an expert witness and failed to properly serve her with a trial subpoena.

The Respondent, in his capacity as a prosecutor, knowingly and intentionally failed to disclose for more than a decade exculpatory evidence that came to light after a defendant's conviction, discarded evidence, sought to have forensic evidence in the case destroyed, knowingly made false statements of fact to the court and defense counsel concerning the content of the evidence, and, during Bar Counsel's investigation, failed to comply with a subpoena to provide a statement under oath.

CHRISTMAN, Edward Charles, Jr. – Commission Reprimand on December 20, 2021, for failing to safekeep funds in an attorney trust account, engaging in conduct that is prejudicial to the administration of justice, and failing to comply with attorney trust account record-keeping requirements. The Respondent admitted that he did not create or maintain records associated with the maintenance and disbursement of client and third-party funds and that he did not perform monthly reconciliations of his attorney trust account.

The Respondent was the subject of a sixty-day definite suspension from the practice of law in Maryland as a result of an unrelated disciplinary action. The Respondent subsequently applied for reinstatement to the Bar and made knowing and intentional misrepresentations in her petition for reinstatement, in her response to Bar Counsel's objection to her petition for reinstatement, and in correspondence with Bar Counsel. In addition, the Respondent repeatedly failed to respond to Bar Counsel's requests for information concerning a new complaint.

The Respondent's firm had collected substantial proceeds belonging to a client and which required deposit and maintenance in an attorney trust account. The Respondent was the attorney responsible for managing his firm's attorney trust account but improperly relied on another to manage the account, resulting in misappropriation of entrusted funds. The Respondent then made misrepresentations regarding the status of entrusted funds based on his failure to conduct adequate due diligence and mistaken reliance on statements of others. The Respondent repeatedly attempted to disburse a large sum of client funds via checks drawn on the attorney trust account with knowledge that the funds were not maintained in the account.

CRADDOCK, MyEsha Ruth – Disbarment by Consent on February 23, 2022, for committing a criminal act that reflects adversely on her honesty, trustworthiness, or fitness as an attorney; engaging in conduct involving dishonesty, fraud, deceit, or misrepresentation; and engaging in conduct that is prejudicial to the administration of justice. DUNWIDDIE, David Alan – Disbarment by Consent on February 23, 2022, effective immediately, for committing a criminal act that reflects adversely on his honesty, trustworthiness, or fitness as an attorney; engaging in conduct involving dishonesty, fraud, deceit, or misrepresentation; and engaging in conduct that is prejudicial to the administration of justice. The Respondent pled guilty to one count of theft of government property in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 641.

FELLNER, Brian Robert – Suspension by Consent for thirty days on February 25, 2022, stayed in favor of one year of probation with the terms contained in the Probation Agreement, for engaging in conduct involving dishonesty, fraud, deceit, or misrepresentation. FICKER, Robin Keith Annesley – Disbarred on March 3, 2022, effective immediately, for failing to represent his client competently and diligently; failing to maintain candor to the tribunal; failing to properly supervise a non-attorney assistant; engaging in conduct involving dishonesty, fraud, deceit, or misrepresentation; and engaging in conduct that is prejudicial to the administration of justice. The Respondent made substantive decisions regarding his client's federal lawsuit without his client's knowledge or consent, including rejecting two settlement offers without his client's authorization, proffering an unauthorized settlement demand, and submitting filings containing factual representations that the Respondent had reason to believe were false. The Respondent filed multiple frivolous pleadings in the case that were not based on any good faith argument. The Respondent also conducted himself with "pervasive incivility" during the underlying litigation and during a hearing conducted before a District Committee of the Virginia State Bar Disciplinary Board.

GERTNER, Abraham Allan – Commission Reprimand on March 21, 2022, for failing to represent his clients diligently, failing to safekeep funds in an attorney trust account, and engaging in conduct that is prejudicial to the administration of justice. The Respondent settled two personal injury claims but failed to deposit the settlement funds in an attorney trust account and instead placed the settlement checks in the client files. The Respondent failed to disburse the proceeds from the settlements despite both clients' repeated requests for him to do so. After both clients filed complaints with Bar Counsel, the Respondent requested the reissue of the settlement checks, deposited them into his attorney trust account, and, approximately eight months after receiving the original settlement checks, disbursed the proceeds to both clients.

GOLESORKHI, Reza – Commission Reprimand on September 22, 2021, for failing to represent his client competently and diligently, failing to uphold his duty to a former client, representing a client involving an imputed conflict of interest, representing a client when the representation would result in violation of the Maryland Attorneys' Rules of Professional Conduct, and engaging in conduct that is prejudicial to the administration of justice. In a custody matter, the Respondent's law firm assigned him to represent a client in a matter directly adverse to a former client of the firm. The Respondent failed to do appropriate due diligence prior to making incorrect representations to the court regarding the prior representation. After receiving the adverse party's motion to strike his appearance, the Respondent failed to speak to the attorney at his firm about the scope of the prior representation, failed to identify the conflict of interest that existed as to continued representation of the client in any custody dispute, failed to obtain the client's informed consent waiving any conflict, and failed to withdraw from the representation.

GRAU, Angela Beckner – Commission Reprimand on July 26, 2021, for failing to promptly inform her client of any decision or circumstance with respect to which her client's informed consent is required, failing to explain a matter to the extent reasonably necessary to permit her client to make informed decisions regarding the representation, failing to communicate to her client the scope of the representation and the basis or rate of the fee and expenses for which her client would be responsible before or within a reasonable time after commencing the representation, and engaging in conduct that is prejudicial to the administration of justice. The Respondent and her client verbally agreed that the client would use the property at issue in the representation as collateral to obtain financing to pay any balance of attorney's fees. This arrangement was not incorporated into the client's retainer agreement, and the Respondent failed to adequately communicate, in writing, the terms of payment for which her client would be responsible. At the conclusion of the litigation, the Respondent failed to clearly advise her client that the representation had ended and began assisting her client in seeking financing to pay off the balance owed to the Respondent. The Respondent failed to explain to her client how the Respondent's efforts to assist the client in obtaining a loan differed from the representation in the underlying litigation.

The Respondent negligently misappropriated client funds by failing to deposit a flat fee into a trust account three years after District of Columbia case law clarified that, per the District of Columbia Rules of Professional Conduct, attorneys were required to deposit pre-paid flat fees into trust.

HELLMER, Ellennita Muetze – Commission Reprimand on March 23, 2022, for failing to represent her client competently and diligently, failing to adequately communicate with her client, collecting unreasonable fees, knowingly failing to disclose facts necessary to correct a misapprehension, and engaging in conduct that is prejudicial to the administration of justice. The Respondent was retained to prepare an opposition to the Department of Homeland Security's motion to reopen her client's removal proceedings. Upon receipt of a labor certification allowing the Respondent's employer to file an Immigrant Petition for Alien Workers on behalf of the client, the Respondent advised the client that an opposition was no longer necessary because the client could pursue an adjustment of status and would want his case reopened. The Respondent agreed to represent the client in connection with the Petition and the subsequent Application for Adjustment of Status. The Respondent completed and mailed the Petition but did not receive notice from U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) acknowledging receipt or take any timely action to confirm that they had received the Petition before the labor certification expired. The Respondent later informed the client that USCIS never received the Petition but failed to return any portion of the fees and expenses paid in connection with the representation.

The Respondent retained the services of an independent consultant who was formerly admitted to the practice of law and had been and remained indefinitely suspended. As an independent consultant for the Respondent's law firm, the formerly admitted attorney continued to work on several of his former clients' matters. The Respondent inadvertently assisted the former attorney in violating the Maryland Attorneys' Rules of Professional Conduct, as the Respondent was unaware of the prohibition on formerly admitted attorneys working on matters for clients whom they previously represented. The Respondent failed to file notice with Bar Counsel of the formerly admitted attorney's association with his firm.

and failing to comply with attorney trust account record-keeping requirements. The Respondent improperly deposited the funds into his attorney trust account and failed to create or maintain a record identifying the nature of the deposited funds and therefore showing any disbursements. The Respondent issued a check from his attorney trust account payable to a possible expert witness in his client's medical malpractice case and identified the money received from the organization as the source of funds used to pay the possible witness.

The Respondent repeatedly failed to inform her client of these failures, up to and including failing to inform him that his complaint had been dismissed.
