INTRODUCTION

The General Assembly is required by its Constitution to adopt its decennial legislative districting by resolution—and it did so.<sup>1,2</sup> The County Council of Prince George’s County is also required by its Constitution to adopt its Redistricting Plan by resolution—and it did so.<sup>3</sup>

But sixty-nine days after Council adopted its Plan, circuit court threw out the Plan because 4 Residents alleged that “[a] resolution is not and cannot be a law” because the Charter mandates that “[t]he Council shall enact no law except by bill.”

The law didn’t fare well on January 28. Despite a 2012 Charter amendment that made it mandatory for Council to adopt its Plan by resolution, circuit court confusingly held—because the court did not invalidate the amendment—that the Charter prohibits Council from enacting any law except by bill.

If circuit court is right—this Court should toss the General Assembly’s Plan (currently before this Court) because it too was adopted by resolution.<sup>4</sup> Because the General Assembly and Council were administering or implementing “existing redistricting law” already in force and effect, neither legislative body was required to adopt decennial Plans by bill because they were not making new law or prescribing a permanent rule or conduct to continue in force until repealed.

The circuit court’s decision cannot withstand measured judicial scrutiny.

A. PROCEEDINGS BELOW

Circuit Court for Prince George’s County — On January 24, 2022, a Verified Complaint for Declaratory Judgment and Writ of Mandamus and for Temporary Restraining Order and Preliminary Injunctive Relief was filed against Prince George’s County by Robert E. Thurston, Stephanie E. Stulich, John D. Perkins, and Stanley Holmes. The docket

<sup>4</sup> According to the State’s website certain issues are required by law or Constitution to be introduced by resolutions, which are substantive in nature and express the will, opinion, or public policy of the General Assembly and they also have the force and effect of law. The Council is also required by its Charter (or Constitution) to adopt its decennial Redistricting Plan by resolution. <https://msa.maryland.gov/msa/mdmanual/07leg/html/proc.html> (last visited February 2, 2022).

number is CAL22-01728. D5-50. Four days later, the Honorable William A. Snoddy held a full hearing on the face of the complaint alone. D51-114. A written Order of Court and Declaratory Judgment followed on Monday, January 31, 2022—adjudicating all claims in the action in their entirety, and the rights and liabilities of all parties to the action. D113-114. The County immediately noted an appeal.<sup>5</sup> D115-122.

Court of Special Appeals — COSA docketed the appeal the same day as CSA-REG-1865-2021 – Prince George’s County v. Robert E. Thurston, et al. The case has not been decided by COSA, there is no judgment, no mandate, no briefing schedule, and no briefs filed in COSA. D123.

B. QUESTION PRESENTED

In 2012, the County Attorney certified the order and form of seven questions to the local board of elections in accordance with the provisions of Section 7-103 of the Election Law Article. D124-131. Relevant to this petition is Ballot Question A. D129. According to the Maryland Election Law website, Question A was presented to the voters as follows:

Prince George’s County
Question A
Charter Required Referendum
(CB-55-2012) Proposed Charter Amendment

To authorize legislative action on the decennial County Council redistricting plan by resolution upon notice and public hearing.<sup>6</sup>

Voters overwhelmingly ratified Question A on November 6, 2012. Subsequently, Section 305 of the Charter was amended as follows: Such law shall be adopted by resolution of the County Council upon notice and public hearing.<sup>7</sup> D124-125, D132-133 (Emphasis added).

The question presented:<sup>8</sup>

Is a Resolution, having the force and effect of law, a valid measure to adopt a decennial County Council Redistricting Plan?

In 2012, voters said YES. But 9 years later, circuit court, at the eleventh hour, with the flick of a pen, re-wrote the County's Constitution and silenced the free expression of the will of the people when it threw out Council's 2021 decennial Redistricting Plan because it was adopted by resolution.

C. REVIEW IS DESIRABLE AND IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST

This case involves the County’s Charter (or Constitution) and local Election Law. A County’s Charter “is to its legislative body as the Constitution is to the General Assembly of Maryland.”<sup>9</sup> The most fundamental principle defining credible elections is that they must reflect the free expression of the will of the people.

This Court settled long ago the distinction between a resolution and a bill—but circuit court chartered its’ own distinction and ignored the people of Prince George’s County who saw fit in 2012 to require County lawmakers to adopt decennial Redistricting Plans by resolution.

Circuit court changed a Yes vote in 2012 to a No vote in 2021.

Circuit court’s ruling has delivered nothing short of election chaos 22-days before an election filing deadline to declare candidacy for the 2022 Councilmanic elections.<sup>10</sup> Instead of denying the relief in the complaint, because of Residents inexcusable and unreasonable delay in asserting their rights, circuit court “permanently” enjoined the County and/or the County Council from “acting upon,” “implementing” or otherwise “presenting” the Plan to “any entity” charged with “acting upon,” or “implementing” the Plan—22-days before an election filing deadline.

Under the Charter, Council does not “implement” the Plan after transmittal to BOE—that administrative function rests solely with the BOE—a party circuit court acknowledged Residents did not sue. D114. But it didn’t matter to circuit court that sixty-nine days after the Plan was transmitted to the BOE, the County’s interest in proceeding with the election increases in importance as resources are committed and irrevocable decisions are made.<sup>11</sup>

Time is running out for almost 1 million people in Prince George’s County.<sup>12</sup> Resolution from this Court is desirable and in the public interest to restore the status quo.

D. STATUTORY PROVISIONS

1. Prince George's County Charter, §§ 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 307, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 323, 411, 1014, 1017, 1101, 1102, 1105.
2. Md. Ann. Code, Local Govt. Article, §§ 9-205, 10-202, 10-204, 10-206, 10-306.
3. Md. Ann. Code, Election Law Article, §§ 5-303, 7-101, 7-102, 7-103, 7-104, 7-105.

E. STATEMENT OF FACTS

Existing Law Already In Force And Effect

Voters adopted the Charter on November 3, 1970. D140. Subsequently, the County was divided into nine Council districts in 1980 and boundaries of Council districts were then established pursuant to Section 305 of the Charter in 1982 and every tenth year thereafter. D132-133. That has been the law in force and effect ever since.

2012 Charter Amendment

When the voters ratified Ballot Question A, it must be assumed that the people of Prince George's County meant what they said—i.e.—if County lawmakers passes another law to change the Commission's Plan, it shall do so by resolution. D124-133.

Council Resolution (CR) 123-2021

Council introduced CR-123-2021 on October 19, 2021. After notice and public hearing, CR-123-2021 was adopted on November 16, 2021—and the Plan was transmitted to the BOE for further administrative action. D1.

November 16 to January 24

Residents inexcusable and unreasonable delay in filing their complaint, which resulted in prejudice to the County—22 days before an election filing deadline.<sup>13</sup>

Complaint for Declaratory Judgment/Injunctive Relief

Inexplicably, 4 Residents waited sixty-nine days after Council adopted its Plan and less than 1 month before the election filing deadline for candidacy to file a 4-count complaint to invalidate Council’s Plan. D5-50. A full hearing was held on January 28, 2022—just 4 days after the complaint was filed. D51-112. Counts 1 & 2 essentially requested that the Commission’s Plan become law because Council failed to adopt a law because it adopted a resolution as opposed to a bill. D24-26. Count III was a requested to invalidate the 2012 Charter, which was denied. D26-28, D114. Count IV requested injunctive relief citing (among other things) voter confusion and uncertainty. Residents requested that the County be enjoined from “implementing” and “effectuating” CR-123-2021 sixty-nine days after it was adopted and transmitted to the BOE for further administrative action. Count IV also requested that the County be enjoined from “enforcing” the filing deadline for candidacy. Circuit court enjoined CR-123-2021—22-days to the election filing deadline—and inflicted harm to the County and more importantly to the electorate. D28-31, D114.

F. ARGUMENT

Statutory Interpretation and Construction

The circuit court made the following declarations against the County:

- DECLARED that County Charter § 317 prohibits the Council from enacting any law “except by bill.”
- DECLARED that pursuant to Charter § 305, the only manner by which the Council can change the redistricting plan submitted by the commission on redistricting (“Commission”) is by passing a law.
- DECLARED that under the County’s Charter, a resolution, while having the effect of law, is not a substitute for a law.
- DECLARED that the passage of CR-123-2021 is not effective to the extent its intent is to serve as a “law changing the [Commission’s plan].”

- DECLARED that since no other law has been passed changing the Commission’s plan submitted to the Council on September 1, 2021, the Commission’s plan became law on November 30, 2021. D113-114.

The County contends that circuit court erred on all fronts. This case turns on statutory construction and interpretation of the County’s Charter as amended by Ballot Question A—which has not been invalidated by any court.<sup>14</sup> It is hornbook rule of statutory construction that in ascertaining the intention of the Legislature, all parts of a statute are to be read together to find the intention as to any one part and that all parts are to be reconciled and harmonized if possible. If there is no clear indication to the contrary and it is reasonably possible, a statute is to be read so that no word, clause, sentence or phrase shall be rendered surplusage, superfluous, meaningless or nugatory.<sup>15</sup>

The language in § 317 of the Charter that states that all laws must be enacted by bill pre-dates ratification of Question A, which specifically amended § 305 (Redistricting procedures), and requires Council to adopt redistricting law by resolution—as opposed to a bill contemplated in § 317 (Enactment of legislation). Section 305 (as amended by Question A) is aligned on all fours with the Express Powers Act which expressly authorizes a County Council to pass a resolution to execute and enforce any power conferred to it—including creating and revising election districts and precincts. D144-45.

Judge Snoddy’s sole reliance on the language in § 317 to declare that “§ 317 prohibits the Council from enacting any law “except by bill,” was erroneous because he completely ignored the legal significance of the 2012 Charter amendment—which he did not invalidate. If § 317 was meant to override § 305 as amended after Question A was ratified, it would not be construing the Charter so that no word, clause, sentence or phrase shall be rendered surplusage, superfluous, meaningless or nugatory. Board of Supervisors, 272 Md. 33, 321 A.2d 151 (1974)

In Board of Supervisors, supra, this Court granted a petition for writ of certiorari and advanced the case for oral argument after Harford County immediately appealed a circuit court decision to the Court of Special to address whether the circuit court was correct to grant the board of elections declaratory judgment to invalidate the council’s resolution approving a plan different from the commission’s plan. In that case and the instant case, both Counties were up against the filing deadline for the coming councilmanic election.<sup>16</sup>

Board of Supervisors addressed a 70-day deadline provision in Harford County's charter. There the Council did not enact its plan until after the 70-day deadline and lost their right to do so. Relevant to the instant petition is how this Court squared the 70-day restrictive provision in that charter, which Judge Snoddy failed to do in the instant case with the 2012 amendment to § 305. Addressing the more restrictive 70-day provision over a general provision in Harford County's charter, this Court reasoned as follows:

The people of Harford County saw fit, in their wisdom, to place in their charter this provision for the creation of councilmanic districts. It must be assumed that they meant what they said. See Prince George's Co. v. Beard, 266 Md. 83, 91, 291 A. 2d 636 (1972). It certainly cannot be said that the Harford County Charter clearly spells out that the provisions of § 101 of that charter are in any way to override the provisions of § 205. If § 205 were not in the charter, then the council could, as Judge Close observed, "redistrict in any manner they wished, using any procedure they wished to establish, provided that both the procedure and the result were consistent with both Federal and State law and related sections of the Charter." The only way the charter can be construed so that "no word, clause, sentence or phrase shall be rendered surplusage, superfluous, meaningless or nugatory" is to conclude, as we do conclude, that the citizens of Harford County intended by the enactment of § 205 of their charter to restrict the

County Council in enacting laws setting forth lines for councilmanic districts to the “seventy calendar days following presentation of the Commission’s plan.”

Board of Supervisors, 272 Md. 33, 40, 321 A.2d 151, 155 (Emphasis added).

The same is true for Prince George’s County. When the voters ratified Ballot Question A, it must be assumed that the people of Prince George’s County meant what they said—i.e.—if County lawmakers passes another law to change the Commission’s Plan, it shall do so by resolution. D124-133. Moreover, to the extent there was a conflict in the Charter, circuit court resolved it in favor of the County when the court denied Residents’ request to invalidate the 2012 amendment. D113-114.

In Kendall v. Howard County, this Court explained the difference between a resolution and bill as follows:

Resolution

A resolution “ordinarily denotes something less solemn or formal than, or not rising to the dignity of, an ordinance.” A resolution passed by a legislative body “deals with matters of a special or temporary character . . . [and] generally speaking, is simply an expression of opinion or mind concerning some particular item of business coming within the legislative body’s official cognizance, ordinarily ministerial in character and relating to the administrative business of the municipality.”

Bill

A bill or ordinance is distinctly a legislative act; it prescribes “some permanent role of conduct or government, to continue in force until the ordinance is repealed.”

431 Md. 590, 595-96, 66 A.3d 684, 687 (2013) (Emphasis added). A recognized test for determining whether a municipal ordinance is legislative and so subject to referendum, or whether it is executive or administrative and is not, is whether the ordinance is one making a new law -- an enactment of general application prescribing a new plan or policy -- or is one which merely looks to or facilitates the administration, execution or implementation of a law already in force and effect. Scull v. Montgomery Citizens League, 249 Md. 271, 239 A.2d 92 (1968).

The County argued that pursuant to the Express Powers Act, Council is authorized to use resolutions to execute and enforce any power granted to it—including to execute a law. D144. But Judge Snoddy said “...to execute a law, there has to be a law.” D100 (Emphasis added). Judge Snoddy mistakenly viewed CR-123-2021 as bringing into existence redistricting law for the first time—requiring passage by bill—and missed that CR-123-2021 was merely implementing and administering already existing redistricting law—which does not require passage by bill. Section 305 (Redistricting procedures) is best characterized as ministerial in character and relating to administrative business—

i.e.—implementing and administering decennial redistricting every ten years based on Census data.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

This matter involves the 2021 County Council decennial Redistricting Plan approved in CR-123-2021, and overlapping election issues, including an upcoming election filing deadline on February 22, 2022, to declare candidacy for the upcoming 2022 Councilmanic election. The entire record below is attached to this petition—including the transcript.

This Court should grant this petition in similar fashion as it did in Harford County v. Board of Supervisors, 274 Md. 33, 321 A.2d 151 (1974), and advance the case for argument and disposition.

Pursuant to Rule 8-303 (e), upon filing of this petition, the County would respectfully request that the Court stay the enforcement or execution of the judgment of the circuit court—and restore the status quo.

Pursuant to Rule 8-303 (f)(1) if the Court grants the petition, the County respectfully requests that the case advance for argument and disposition before the February 22 filing deadline.

Grant any other relief that is within the inherent power of the Court.

Respectfully submitted,

Case: Robert E. Thurston, et al. v. Prince George's County
Our Client: Robert E. Thurston, et al.
Our File No.: 2022-0044

Dear Clerk:

Please see the enclosed (Emergency) Verified Complaint for Temporary Restraining Order and Preliminary and Permanent Injunctive Relief; Motion for Temporary Restraining Order and Preliminary Injunction; Memorandum in Support of Plaintiffs' Motion for Temporary Restraining Order and Preliminary Injunction and its attached Affidavit of Robert E. Thurston.

As described within them, these pleadings concern the recent redistricting measures and election law with respect to upcoming elections in Prince George's County and are of substantial importance to the general public. The relief requested is emergency in nature as it affects these upcoming elections and the very districts the voters and candidates reside and declare candidacy in. It is critical that these pleadings are quickly reviewed, a summons issued, and relief expedited.

Undersigned counsel discussed this matter with the Clerk's office and was instructed to denote the pleadings as emergencies. Undersigned counsel has made efforts to contact the County Attorney's office with respect to these pleadings but has not received a response to date.

Sincerely,

/s/ Matthew G. Sawyer

4. The powers granted to the County by the Maryland Constitution and the Express Powers Act specifically provide that the County may only enact legislation—not resolution—with respect to establishing districts.

5. The amended portion of Section 305 authorizing law by resolution is in contravention with the remainder of the Charter.

6. Moreover, the amended language directly violates the Express Powers Act in which the Council is specifically only provided the power to “enact legislation” “to create and revise election districts and precincts[,]” and is not provided the power to do so by resolution. Md. Code Ann. LOCAL GOVERNMENT §§ 10-102 and 10-306.

7. Plaintiffs are likely to prevail on the merits of the Complaint, the verified allegations of which are incorporated by reference herein as if fully restated herein.

8. Plaintiffs will suffer far greater injury if its requested injunctive relief is denied than Defendant will suffer if it is granted.

9. A Temporary Restraining Order is necessary to preserve the status quo to prevent further accrual of irreparable harm to Plaintiffs.

10. Plaintiffs have suffered, and will suffer in the future, irreparable injury as a result of Defendant’s actions.

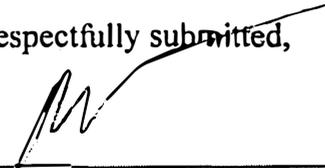

11. The public interest is best served by the granting of this injunction.

12. The grounds for the Temporary Restraining Order and Preliminary Injunction are further set forth in the Verified Complaint filed herewith and in the accompanying Memorandum of Law in Support of Motion for Temporary Restraining Order and Preliminary Injunction.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs, Robert E. Thurston, Stephanie E. Stulich, John D. Perkins, and Stanley Holmes, respectfully request that this Court:

- a) Grant Plaintiffs an injunction and enjoin Defendant, Prince George's County from:
  - i. Implementing the redistricting plan provided under CR-123-2021;
  - ii. Enforcing February 22, 2022 as the filing deadline for candidates for County Council until such time as a final judgment has been made by this Court as to the merits of this action; and
- b) Grant such other and further relief as this case and the cause of justice requires.

Respectfully submitted,

(EMERGENCY)
VERIFIED COMPLAINT FOR
DECLARATORY JUDGMENT AND WRIT OF MANDAMUS AND FOR A TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDER AND PRELIMINARY INJUNCTIVE RELIEF

Plaintiffs, Robert E. Thurston, Stephanie E. Stulich, John D. Perkins, and Stanley Holmes, by and through their attorneys, Matthew G. Sawyer, and the Law Offices of Matthew G. Sawyer, LLC, and pursuant to Maryland Rules 15-701 Maryland Rules 15-501 through 15-505 and 15-701, as well as Md. Code Ann., COURTS AND JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS § 3-401, et seq., hereby file this Verified Complaint for Declaratory Judgment and Writ of Mandamus and for a Temporary Restraining Order and Preliminary Injunctive Relief, against the Defendant, Prince George's County, Maryland, and in support thereof, state the following:

Parties

1. The Plaintiff, Robert E. Thurston, is a resident and registered voter in Prince George's County, Maryland. Mr. Thurston is the President of the Lakeland Civic Association, a historically African American Community located in Prince George's County with a history of resiliency in the face of government action against the community.

2. The Plaintiff, Stephanie E. Stulich, is a resident and registered voter in Prince George's County, Maryland. Ms. Stulich is a former College Park City Councilmember and former president of the Old Town Civic Association. Her neighborhood will be split in half between two County Council districts under the newest redistricting plan.

3. The Plaintiff, John D. (“JD”) Perkins, is a resident and registered voter in Prince George’s County, Maryland. Mr. Perkins is a proud veteran of the armed services of the United States and is the President of the Vansville Civic Association, an unincorporated, historically African American community located in Prince George’s County. His neighborhood will also be split in half between two County Council districts under the newest redistricting plan.

4. The Plaintiff, Stanley Holmes, is a resident and registered voter in Prince George’s County, Maryland. Mr. Holmes is also a proud veteran of the armed services of the United States and is the President of the Skyline Citizens Association, an unincorporated community located in Prince George’s County.

5. The Defendant, Prince George’s County, Maryland is a charter county authorized under Maryland Law and governed according to the Prince George’s County Charter (the “Charter”).

Jurisdiction and Venue

6. Jurisdiction is proper pursuant to Md. Code Ann. COURTS AND JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS § 6-102 as the County is in the State of Maryland.

7. Venue is proper pursuant to Md. Code Ann. COURTS AND JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS § 6-201 as the County is in Prince George’s County, Maryland.

Statement of Facts

8. Prince George's County (the "County"), Maryland is a charter county, subject to the rights and limitations provided to it by the Maryland Constitution and Md. Code Ann. LOCAL GOVERNMENT. §§ 10-101, et seq., the "Express Powers Act."

9. Under the Express Powers Act, charter counties are empowered to "exercise by legislative enactment the express powers provided in Subtitles 2 and 3" of the Express Powers Act. Md. Code Ann. LOCAL GOVERNMENT § 10-102 (a).

10. § 10-206 (b) limits a charter county's power "only to the extent that the powers are not preempted by or in conflict with public general law[.]" Md. Code Ann. LOCAL GOVERNMENT §10-206, and the "Public Local Laws of Maryland, shall not be enlarged or extended by any charter[.]" Md. Const. art. XI-A, § 2.

11. In cases of any conflict between local law and any public general law, the public general law shall control.

12. § 10-306 and § 10-102(a) of the Express Powers Act authorizes charter counties to enact legislation to create and revise election districts and precincts.

13. As a charter county, the Charter establishes the processes and procedures for the County's governmental functions, including the establishment of a County Council (the "Council") authorized under Maryland Law to legislate those express powers granted to the County, with that legislation still being subject to the general public laws of Maryland.

14. The Charter authorizes only one method to enact a law: through the use of a bill.

15. The Charter defines the word “bill” to mean “any measure introduced in the Council for legislative action[,]” which it defines as “any bill enacted in the manner and form provided in this Charter.” Charter Sections 317, 1017(a), and 1017(b).

16. To legally enact a law under the Charter, the County Council must first propose a bill, submit that bill for Council approval, and then upon such approval, submit the approved bill to the County Executive, who then either approves or vetoes the bill.

17. Council bills are denoted by the letters “CB” before their respective number.

18. On the other hand, the Charter defines the word "resolution" as meaning “a measure adopted by the Council having the force and effect of law but of a temporary or administrative character.” Charter Section 1017(c).

19. Council resolutions are denoted by the letters “CR” before their respective numbers.

20. Council bills express law, and Council resolutions express Council policy.

21. The Charter defines the word “‘law’ as including all acts, public local laws, ordinances, and other legislative acts of the Council” and defines the words “legislative act,” to “mean any bill enacted in the manner and form provided in this Charter.”

22. The County Council is divided into nine election districts, and the boundaries of those districts are established in accordance with Charter Section 305.

23. Charter Section 305 mandates the means and method by which the council districts are established, and this power is expressly authorized under § 10-306 of the Express Powers Act.

24. Charter Section 305 charges the Council with appointing a politically independent commission (The “Commission”) to prepare a redistricting plan that is compact, contiguous, and equal in population, and this plan is submitted to the Council.

25. After a plan is submitted by the Commission, the Council holds a public hearing on the plan, and “[i]f the Council passes no other law changing the [Commission’s proposed plan], then the plan, as submitted, shall become law, as of the last day of November, as an act of the Council.” Charter Section 305.

26. On January 28, 2021, the Council appointed Rev. James J. Robinson, Dr. Charlene Mickens Dukes, and Hon. David C. Harrington as the Prince George’s County Redistricting Commission (the “Commission”) to provide a plan for redistricting the County.

27. The Commission worked throughout the year and held eleven public meetings, two public hearings, and made multiple revisions to their plan based on the public’s input.

28. On August 30, 2021, the Commission unanimously adopted the 2021 Redistricting Commission’s Plan (the “Commission’s Plan”) which consisted of fifty-two pages and represented countless hours of investigation, consideration, and deliberation.

29. On September 1, 2021, the Commission provided the Commission’s Plan to the County Council.

30. According to Charter Section 305, the Commission’s Plan was to become law so long as the Council passed no other “law” changing it.

31. On October 14, 2021, the Council introduced a bill titled CB-115-2021 which, if passed and approved, would have been a “law” changing the Commission’s Plan.

32. CB-115-2021, like virtually every bill under the Charter,<sup>1</sup> was subject to the legislative process, including a possible eventual veto by the County Executive.

33. However, rather than letting CB-115-2021 progress through the legislative course provided by the Charter, the Council withdrew CB-115-2021 and instead introduced a resolution, CR-123-2021, on October 19, which it passed on November 16, 2021.<sup>2</sup>

34. Unlike an intervening “law” changing the proposal, as provided by Charter Section 305, CR-123-2021 was only a resolution, and as such, was not automatically subject to veto or approval by the County Executive.

35. The Council relied on a 2012 Charter amendment (“CB-55-2012”) amending Charter Section 305 to read that “Such law shall be adopted by resolution of the County Council upon notice and public hearing.” Charter Section 305.

36. This amended portion of Section 305 is in contravention of the remainder of the Charter and of Maryland law, but it still does not apply to a law changing the Commission’s Plan.

37. The amended portion of Section 305 that states “Such law shall be adopted by resolution” (which is itself invalid) only applies to the law adopting the Commission Plan; it does not apply to the to the “law changing the proposal.” Charter Section 305.

38. That law changing the Commission's Plan cannot be made by resolution because there is no legislative path for a resolution to become a law. Laws are only enacted by bill. Charter Section 317.

39. Even though it was only a resolution, the Council Parliamentarian mistakenly characterized CR-123-2021 as though it was a "law" changing the Commission's proposal, stating "[the change to a resolution is] a clerical and formatting change without any substantive difference." Final Adoption of the Council's Redistricting Plan, CR-123-2021, 2021-10-19 (Statement of K. Zavakos at 16:33).

Count I
(Declaratory Judgment Declaring the Commission's Plan to Be Law)

40. Plaintiffs incorporate and reallege the foregoing and subsequent paragraphs as though set forth fully herein and further state as follows:

41. The Charter requires that "If the Council passes no other law changing the proposal, the plan, as submitted, shall become law as of the last day of November, as an act of the Council[.]" Charter Section 305.

42. Charter Section 317 mandates that "The Council shall enact no law except by bill."

43. The Council passed no law changing the Commission's Plan; it only passed CR-123-2021, a resolution.

44. A resolution is not and cannot be a law.

45. Therefore, the Commission's Plan, as submitted, should be law, pursuant to Charter Section 305, as of the last day of November, 2021.

WHEREFORE, the Plaintiffs request that this Honorable Court

- a) Declare that the Commission’s Plan be and hereby is enacted as the law of Prince George’s County;
- b) Enter an award of Plaintiffs’ reasonable attorneys’ fees incurred; and
- c) Enter such other and further relief as is necessary and proper.

(Writ of Mandamus)

46. Plaintiffs incorporate and reallege the foregoing and subsequent paragraphs as though set forth fully herein and further state as follows:

47. The Charter requires that “If the Council passes no other law changing the proposal, the plan, as submitted, shall become law as of the last day of November, as an act of the Council[.]”

48. Charter Section 317 mandates that “The Council shall enact no law except by bill.”

49. The Council passed no law changing the Commission’s Plan; it only passed CR-123-2021, a resolution.

50. A resolution is not and cannot be a law.

51. Therefore, the Commission’s Plan, as submitted, should be law, pursuant to Charter Section 305, as of the last day of November, 2021.

WHEREFORE, the Plaintiffs request that this Honorable Court

- a) Mandate that the Commission’s Plan be immediately enacted as the law of Prince George’s County;

- b) Enter an award of Plaintiffs' reasonable attorneys' fees incurred; and
- c) Enter such other and further relief as is necessary and proper.

(Declaratory Judgment Declaring CB-55-2012 Invalid)

52. Plaintiffs incorporate and reallege the foregoing and subsequent paragraphs as though set forth fully herein and further and alternatively state as follows:

53. Maryland's Express Powers Act authorizes a charter county to "exercise by legislative enactment" those express powers that "are not preempted by or in conflict with public general law." Md. Code Ann. LOCAL GOVERNMENT §§ 10-102 (a) and 10-206.

54. These express powers include the power in § 10-306 to enact legislation to create and revise election districts and precincts. Md. LOCAL GOVERNMENT Code Ann. § 10-306.

55. Therefore, under the Express Powers Act, with respect to redistricting, the County's authority is limited to enacting legislation.

56. Similarly, Charter Section 317 provides that "The Council shall enact no law except by bill."

57. All prior redistricting plans in Prince George's County were enacted by law.

58. The unamended language of Charter Section 305 is likewise consistent with the Charter and the Express Powers Act, and references legislative actions throughout rather than the language of resolution.

59. A 2012 Charter amendment (“CB-55-2012”) amended Charter Section 305 to read that “Such law shall be adopted by resolution of the County Council upon notice and public hearing.” Charter Section 305.

60. Under the Charter, there is no mechanism by which a resolution is a bill, nor is there any procedure by which a resolution can be reviewed or approved by the County Executive, as is the Charter’s requirement for all laws other than those made expressly exempt.

61. A law, or legislative action, cannot be both a law and a resolution, and attempting to pass a law via resolution usurps the Executive’s veto power provided by Charter Section 411 of the Charter and is in direct contravention of the separation of powers established by Maryland law and the Charter.<sup>3</sup>

62. CB-55-2012 is, therefore, inconsistent with the provisions of Maryland public general law and the totality of the Charter and is an improper enlargement or extension of the powers provided under Maryland Law. Md. Const. art. XI-A, § 2.

63. § 10-206(b) of the Express Powers Act provides that “A county council may pass any ordinance, resolution, or bylaw not inconsistent with State law [and]...only to the extent that the powers are not preempted by or in conflict with public general law.”

<sup>3</sup> Charter Section 411. – Executive Veto. Upon the enactment of any bill by the Council, with the exception of such measures made expressly exempt from the executive veto by this Charter, it shall be presented to the County Executive within ten days for his approval or disapproval. And Charter Section 402. - Executive Power and Duties. All executive power vested in Prince George's County by the Constitution and laws of Maryland and this Charter shall be vested in the County Executive who shall be the chief executive officer of the County

64. CB-55-2012 is outside the authority and in conflict with the Charter and with Maryland public general law and is, therefore, invalid under both.

WHEREFORE, the Plaintiffs request that this Honorable Court

- a) Declare that CB-55-2012, be and hereby is invalid;
- b) Enter an award of Plaintiffs' reasonable attorneys' fees incurred;
- c) Enter such other and further relief as is necessary and proper.

Count IV
(Injunctive Relief)

65. Plaintiffs incorporate and reallege the foregoing and subsequent paragraphs as though set forth fully herein and further and alternatively state as follows:

66. By improperly adopting the redistricting map under CR-123-2021, the Council has abused its power by improperly determining which candidates may run in particular districts and functionally denying voters the opportunity to vote for the County Council candidate of their choosing and to know with certainty which election district they are part of, and it further denies voters and candidates certainty with respect to running for a County Councilmember position in a particular district.

67. The filing deadline for candidates seeking election to the County Council is February 22, 2022 at 9:00 p.m.

68. By filing this Verified Complaint, Motion for a Preliminary Injunction, and accompanying memorandum in support thereof, the Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court enjoin Prince George's County, Maryland from effectuating and/or allowing the redistricting plan under CR-123-2021 to take effect, and to delay the filing deadline for County Council candidacy until the resolution of this proceeding.

69. Without an entry of injunctive relief, the Plaintiffs and the general public in Prince George's County, Maryland will suffer immediate, substantial and irreparable harm.

70. If the redistricting plan under CR-123-2021 is allowed to take effect, there will be confusion among the voters, potential candidates, and the general public of Prince George's County, and the voters and potential candidates will be uncertain about who to vote for and what district they are voting in.

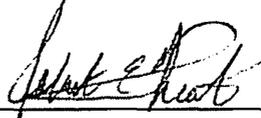

28. As shown in the Plaintiffs' Memorandum in Support of a Temporary Restraining Order and Preliminary Injunction which is incorporated by reference herein, the factors the Court considers to determine whether to grant injunctive relief weigh heavily in favor of granting injunctive relief because (A) the Plaintiffs are likely to succeed on the merits; (B) the balance of harm favors granting the Plaintiffs' motion; (C) the Plaintiffs and the citizens of Prince George's County, Maryland will be irreparably harmed if an injunction is not granted; and (D) the injunction is in the public interest.

29. Plaintiffs respectfully request that bond be waived pursuant to Md. Rule 15- 503(c) as the party enjoined will not be entitled to any damages if enjoined and a substantial injustice will result if the injunction is not issued.

WHEREFORE, the Plaintiffs request that this Honorable Court

- a. Issue an Order granting Plaintiffs a temporary restraining order restraining and enjoining the Defendant, Prince George's County, Maryland from implementing and effectuating the redistricting plan of CR-123-2021 until a determination by this Court;
- b) Issue a preliminary injunction restraining and enjoining the Defendant, Prince George's County, Maryland from implementing and effectuating the redistricting plan of CR-123-2021 until a final judgment has been made on the merits;
- c) Issue a preliminary injunction restraining and enjoining the Defendant, Prince George's County, Maryland from enforcing the February 22, 2022 filing deadline for candidacy until a final judgment has been made on the merits
- d) Enter an award of Plaintiffs' reasonable attorneys' fees incurred; and
- e) Enter such other and further relief as is necessary and proper.

I HEREBY CERTIFY under penalties of perjury that the facts and allegations set forth in the foregoing Complaint are true and correct to the best of my knowledge, information, and belief.

attempts to gerrymander districts to prevent certain candidates from running in certain districts and similarly preclude the citizenry from voting for the candidates of their choosing. One only need to look as far as the hearings held on October 14 and 19, 2021 by the County Council (the “Council”) to see garishly political displays appearing drawn right from the playbook for dirty and underhanded politics with their gall. Not only do these efforts fail any plausible smell test for propriety in democratic legislation, but it should come as no surprise that they are improper under Maryland Law and the Charter itself. The attempted end-around use of a resolution (which, among other things, circumvents the ability for an Executive veto) as the vehicle for the Council’s actions is in conflict with Charter Sections 305 and 317, the totality of the Charter, the Express Powers Act, and the Maryland Constitution.

The relief being sought in the form of a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction (collectively, “Injunctive Relief”) is necessary to maintain the status quo until resolution of the issues raised in Plaintiffs’ Complaint.<sup>1</sup>

All voters are potential candidates, and essential to any decision by any potential candidate to run or not to run is certainly respecting which district the candidate would be representing. If candidates file—or do not file based on changing district boundaries as a result of this lawsuit—these actions cannot be undone.

<sup>1</sup> Plaintiffs’ Complaint for Declaratory Judgment and Writ of Mandamus and for a Temporary Restraining Order and Preliminary Injunctive Relief, which is incorporated herein as though it was stated fully within this Motion.

The deadline for a voter to declare his or her candidacy for a County Councilmember position is February 22, 2022. Once declared, the candidate or potential candidate only has a short window of time to withdraw or continue with the candidate's campaign. By the mutually exclusive nature of this lawsuit, certainty for the residents of Prince George's County can only be known at the conclusion of this suit. Therefore, only then should filing deadlines be implemented and should the district boundaries be changed from the status quo. Anything other than enjoining the County's efforts to implement the redistricting plan will result in conclusive actions that cannot be undone and will leave voters and potential candidates questioning the very districts they live in and vote in and where they could potentially run as candidates.

Voters and residents of Prince George's County deserve to know this information. They also deserve transparency, which was entirely missing from the Council's redistricting measures. The voters of Prince George's County should not be subject to these exploitative measures, and Council actions ought to instead provide voters with confidence in the electoral process and, at a bare minimum, provide certainty with respect to which district they belong to and which districts they can run in.

Without Court intervention to enjoin further implementation, the requisite certainty will be missing. Without maintenance of the status quo, irreparable harm will necessarily occur regardless of the Court's determination in the underlying action. Given the nature of the issues at hand, it is impossible that the voters of Prince George's County will not be confused until a judicial determination is made on these crucial issues concerning districts and redistricting.

II. Factual Background.

a. Statutory background.

The power to create Prince George's County (the "County") is provided by Article XI-A of Maryland's Constitution. Under Section 2 of Article XI-A, the Maryland General Assembly grants charter counties express powers to form charters under the provisions of the Local Government Article of the Maryland Code. Md. Const. art. XI-A. These express powers are listed and codified in the "Express Powers Act." Md. Code Ann. LOCAL GOVERNMENT, §§ 10-101, et seq.

The County's charter ("Charter") establishes and details the processes and procedures for the County's governmental functions. These functions include the establishment of a County Council (the "Council") to legislate those express powers granted to it under the Express Powers Act. Id. The Express Powers Act states that the County may "exercise by legislative enactment the express powers provided in Subtitles 2 and 3" of the Express Powers Act, § 10-102(a) (emphasis added). The County's powers to legislate the express powers are not thereafter unlimited. Its powers are still restricted "to the extent that the powers are not preempted by or in conflict with public general law." Md. Code Ann. LOCAL GOVERNMENT §10-206(b). So too the Charter is constrained by the powers granted the County, and the County's power "shall not be enlarged or extended by any charter[.]" Md. Const. art. XI-A, § 2.

In short then, the County is empowered only to enact legislation concerning those powers provided by the Express Powers Act, and any legislation enacted cannot be in conflict with Maryland's Public Law.<sup>2</sup> Md. Const. art. XI-A, § 2 and Md. Code Ann. Local Government. § 10-101, et seq.

§ 10-306 of the Express Powers Act provides the County's with the power to enact legislation concerning election districts, stating that the County is empowered to "create and revise election districts and precincts." Md. Code Ann. LOCAL GOVERNMENT § 10-306.

Accordingly, the Prince George's County Charter Section 305 outlines the County's method by which the County's council districts are established. Charter Section 305 directs the Council to appoint a politically independent commission to prepare a redistricting plan, and the commission is to submit this plan to the Council for passage, which occurs by default on the last day of November so long as the Council does not change the commission's proposed plan by passing a bill to become a "law changing the proposal[.]" Id.

The Charter authorizes only one method to enact a law. Charter Section 317 plainly states "The Council shall enact no law except by bill." To enact legislation under the Charter, the County Council must propose a bill, submit that bill for Council approval, and, then upon such approval, submit the approved bill to the County Executive for approval or veto. This deliberative process mirrors that of the Maryland and federal legislature process of checks and balances. Similarly, under Section 305, the commission's plan has gone through this deliberative and politically independent process before it becomes law.

Charter Section 305. Any bill changing the Commission's Plan must also go through the deliberative process and is subject to the normal course of legislation. Charter Sections 305 and 317.

b. 2021 Redistricting.

On January 28, 2021, the Council appointed the redistricting commission (the "Commission"). The Commission worked throughout the year on putting together a redistricting plan in conformance with the state, federal and local laws. The Commission unanimously adopted its 2021 Redistricting Commission's Plan (the "Commission's Plan"). The Commission provided its plan to the County Council on September 1, 2021, and the Commission's Plan was to become law so long as the Council passed no other "law" changing it. Charter Section 305.

On October 14, 2021, the Council introduced a bill to change the Commission's Plan, which if passed and signed by the County Executive, could have become a "law" changing the Commission's Plan. That bill was titled CB-115-2021. Like virtually every bill under the Charter, CB-115-2021 was subject to the legislative process, including some form of check or oversight such as a possible veto by the County Executive. Charter Sections 317 and 411.

Rather than letting CB-115-2021 progress through the Charter's legislative course, the Council withdrew CB-115-2021 and in its place introduced a resolution titled CR-123-

2021. The Council subsequently passed CR-123-2021 by a favorable vote of 6-4 on November 16, 2021.<sup>3</sup>

As justification for the change, the Council ostensibly relied on a 2012 Charter amendment (“CB-55-2012”) that amended Charter Section 305 to add language that “Such law shall be adopted by resolution of the County Council upon notice and public hearing.” Charter Section 305.

As is discussed further, this amended portion of Section 305 contravenes the remainder of the Charter and of Maryland law. But it is also nonsensical when taken in context. The word “law” the amendment refers to when it states “Such law shall be adopted by resolution” only applies to the law adopting the previously deliberated Commission Plan; it does not apply to the to the “law changing the proposal” by the Commission. Charter Section 305. That law cannot be made by resolution because there is no legislative path for a resolution to become a law, especially one that is unchecked with no deliberation. Charter Section 317. So regardless of the amended language in Section 305, any law changing the proposal still must be just that: a law that was passed in the normal legislative course with all checks and balances.

The Council was right at first in trying to make the change to the Commission’s Plan by law, through the introduction of the bill CB-115-2021, which would have become a “law changing the proposal” after passage and Executive approval. Changing the bill to a resolution was improper no matter how it was characterized or justified. The Council’s

Parliamentarian stated on the record that “[the change to a resolution is] a clerical and formatting change without any substantive difference.” Final Adoption of the Council's Redistricting Plan, CR-123-2021, 2021-10-19 (Statement of K. Zvakos at 16:33). Though there is certainly a substantive difference between a resolution and a bill in terms of legislative process and the ability for Executive approval or veto, the Council’s confusion only further supports Plaintiffs’ argument that the amended language of CB-55-2012 is invalid because a resolution cannot become a law, nor can a law be created by a resolution. See Charter Section 317.

The change to a resolution allowed CR-123-2021 to escape the County Executive’s review and possible veto. It gave the Council the unchecked power to unilaterally redistrict the County, even allowing it to keep particular candidates from running in particular districts, which CR-123-2021 was unabashedly designed to do.<sup>4</sup>

The amended language the County relied on to try and pass a resolution rather than a bill stands in stark contravention to the unequivocal terms of Charter Section 317<sup>5</sup> and the remaining totality of the Charter.<sup>6</sup> Moreover, the amended language directly violates the Express Powers Act which restricts the Council’s to enacting legislation “to create and

III. Legal Standard.

The primary purpose of issuing injunctive relief is “to maintain the status quo pending a decision as to justifiable controversy[.]” Harford County Ed. Ass’n v. Board of Ed. Of Harford County, 281 Md. 574, 585 (1977).

Maryland courts apply the following test derived from Maryland Rule 15-504 to determine whether temporary restraining orders or preliminary injunctions should be granted: (1) the likelihood that the plaintiff will succeed on the merits; (2) the “balance of convenience” and whether the plaintiff will suffer greater injury by denying the injunction than would result if it is granted; (3) whether the plaintiff will suffer irreparable injury unless the injunction is granted; and (4) where appropriate, the public interest. See Lerner v. Lerner, 306 Md. 771, 776 (1986); Scott v. Seek Lane Venture, Inc., 91 Md. App. 668, 694, cert. denied, 327 Md. 626 (1992) (citing Teferi v. DuPont Plaza Assoc., 77 Md. App. 566, 578 (1989); State Dep’t. of Health and Mental Hygiene v. Baltimore County, 281 Md. 548, 554 (1977)).

“[T]hese factors are not like elements of a tort” but are instead “factors, designed to guide trial judges in deciding whether a preliminary injunction should be issued.” DMF Leasing, Inc. v. Budget Rent-A-Car of Maryland, Inc., 161 Md. App. 640, 648 (2005) (emphasis in original). In other words, “If a trial judge correctly identifies and applies these factors, we will not disturb the judge’s decision absent an abuse of discretion.” Id.

Application of these four factors to the dispute between Plaintiffs and the Defendant clearly favors the issuance of a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction. Once these actions are taken, they will be almost impossible to undo.

IV. Argument.

- a. The Plaintiffs are likely to succeed on the merits because the text of the laws is clear, and the amended language is invalid under Maryland law.

Plaintiffs' case sounds in pure logic. Section 305 states that "[i]f the Council passes no other law changing the [commission's proposed plan], then the plan, as submitted, shall become law, as of the last day of November, as an act of the Council." Charter Section 305. Furthermore, the County Charter Section 317 unequivocally states that "The Council shall enact no law except by bill." The Council passed no other law changing the Commission's proposal. Therefore, the Commission's Plan should have become law as of "the last day of November 2021, as an act of the Council[.]" Charter Section 305.

Furthermore, the Express Powers Act and the Maryland Constitution provide that the County is only empowered to enact legislation concerning redistricting and neither provides any accommodations for a charter county to redistrict itself via simple resolution. Md. Const. art. XI-A, § 2 and Md. Code Ann. LOCAL GOVERNMENT. § 10-101, et seq. So not only were the Council's actions in derogation of the requirements of Charter Section 305, but they were also in violation of the remainder of the Charter and Maryland public law because no law can be created by resolution. Id.

Plaintiffs have made a logical and cogent case that CR-123-2021 should not be the law. See Verified Complaint. As set forth in the Verified Complaint and this Memorandum, the Defendant's use of CR-123-2021 is illogical and violates the Charter and Maryland law. See Verified Complaint; Md. Const. art. XI-A, § 2 and Md. Code Ann. LOCAL GOVERNMENT. § 10-101, et seq. Taking the plain language of the Charter together with the plain language of Maryland's Express Powers Act and the Maryland Constitution, Plaintiffs have a clear and strong case and are likely to succeed on the merits of their case.

- b. The Plaintiffs will be irreparably harmed as they are voters and potential candidates. The deadline for declaring candidacy is February 22, 2022. If deadlines proceed while this case is ongoing, it will undoubtedly foreclose opportunities and impact voters before there is certainty as to essential issues.

Plaintiffs will suffer irreparable harm if the Defendant is not prohibited from implementing the redistricting plan under CR-123-2021 and enforcing the February 22, 2022 deadline for voters to declare candidacy for County Council positions within the district boundaries proposed by CR-123-2021.

“In examining irreparable injury, the Circuit Court may consider ‘the necessity to maintain the status quo’ pending a final outcome.” LeJeune v. Coin Acceptors, Inc., 381 Md. 288, 301 (2004) (quoting Lerner, 306 Md. at 776; quoting State Dep't of Health and Mental Hygiene, 281 Md. at 554, 383 A.2d at 55)).

The status quo to be preserved in a preliminary injunction is “the last, actual peaceable, non-contested status which preceded the pending controversy.” Eastside Vend Distributors v. Pepsi Bottling Group, Inc., 396 Md. 219, 247, 913 A.2d 50, 67 (2006)(citing State Dep't of Health and Mental Hygiene v. Baltimore County, 281 Md. at 556 n.9, 383 A.2d at 56 n.9). The last non-contested status is the prior redistricting plan in 2011 (CB-64-2011). See Charter Section 305.

Minimally, maintaining the status quo should also consist of delaying the February 22, 2022 filing deadline for County Council candidates until a determination is made by this Court which redistricting plan is in place.

Without immediate relief with respect to the redistricting plan and the candidates' filing deadline, Defendant will implement the redistricting consistent with CR-123-2021 which serves to significantly shift the district boundaries of the County and forecloses certain candidates from running in the districts in which they have campaigned and leaves the voters in a state of confusion as to which district they reside in and which candidates they can vote for. Once implemented, those measures are not easily undone without substantial harm befalling both candidates and voters (and the County). They will be subject to continuing uncertainty while a determination awaits a trial on the merits. If the candidate filing and withdrawal deadlines pass while the litigation is still ongoing, voters, candidates, and potential candidates will be irreparably harmed. See Affidavit of Robert E. Thurston attached hereto and incorporated herein as Exhibit A.

If candidates campaign in certain areas subject to changes, it would be wasted effort, and they may not even want to run in the districts in which they are or to which they would be assigned. For candidates and potential candidates, the very decision to declare one's candidacy will be in question, as it will be entirely unclear who a potential opponent is, where to campaign, and in which district they are eligible to declare candidacy. If candidates file their candidacy—or do not file—based on changing district boundaries as a result of this lawsuit, and their actions cannot be undone due to filing and withdrawing deadlines.

Similarly, voters in those affected areas would be precluded from certainty concerning the candidates to support. The voters will not know with any certainty who they are able to vote for, nor will they know for certain who the possible candidates are for their districts. Such measures will serve to deny voters choices in candidates, and voters could even end up with candidates who are subsequently placed in a different district and do not want to run in the particular district in which they are now assigned, but they cannot withdraw and are on the ballot regardless. After the filing deadline, the candidate's agency of whether to run or not is denied.

Opportunities will be incurably foreclosed and uncertain, which in turn harms candidates, supporters, and voters. Each will be forced to make decisions without being able to answer the most basic questions. There will be no recourse to correct this inevitable direction without injunctive relief to protect the status quo.

c. The Plaintiffs Will Suffer Greater Injury if the Injunction Is Denied than the Defendant Will Suffer If It Is Granted.

When the damage to Plaintiffs and the general voters of Prince George's County is weighed against the damage to Defendant, it is readily apparent that Plaintiffs will suffer greater harm if the requested injunctive relief is denied than would the Defendant if the relief is granted.

If the requested relief is denied, Defendant will continue with the implementation of the redistricting proposed under CR-123-2021 and the correlative voters' declaration for candidacy deadline will remain in place for February 22, 2022, and such measures will be difficult, if not impossible, to undo. As discussed above, candidates will declare their candidacy for districts in which they may be foreclosed from running and will be running against undetermined opponents, and voters will be left confused and uncertain which district they live in and which candidates to support or vote for.

Similarly, even the County will suffer harm if injunctive relief is not granted. The County will likely be injured if its voting public approaches an election with uncertainty as described. Moreover, confusion concerning district boundaries and respective deadlines for filing and withdrawing candidacy represents a logistical nightmare, one that can be easily avoided by enjoining the effectuation of the redistricting plan under CR-123-2021.

On the other hand, the County will likely suffer little to no harm if the filing deadline is delayed and the status quo districts are maintained. There would be no substantial difference to the County if the filing deadline is delayed and/or if the Commission's Plan were implemented. Plaintiffs are seeking both. Accordingly, the "balance of convenience" overwhelmingly tips in favor of Plaintiffs.

d. The Public Interest Is Best Served by Granting the Injunctive Relief.

Consideration of the public interest favors granting a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction in this case. The very nature of Plaintiffs' position is that they are members of the voting public in Prince George's County who are aggrieved by the Defendant's action in improperly implementing CR-123-2021. The Council improperly attempted to legislate in contravention of the law, thereby depriving the voters of Prince George's County of the proper process along with confidence in the redistricting plan and certainty in the upcoming election process. The public deserves transparency, and the public deserves input and a right to redress, and the Council foreclosed all of this from them by its actions.

Most importantly, it is essential the voting public has confidence and certainty in the integrity of the electoral process, including redistricting. More than anything, the public must have trust and be fully informed in all matters in determining its representatives. It is unquestionable that the public interest can only be served if the relief requested is granted. Otherwise, the public's interest in the candidacy, candidates, and even the very district in which they reside will be in question, and such questions on critical matters such as voting and elections cannot be taken as trivial. Certainty can only be known upon the resolution of this lawsuit; only then should filing deadlines be imposed or district boundaries changed.

V. Conclusion.

For all of the foregoing reasons, Plaintiffs' Motion for Temporary Restraining Order and Preliminary Injunction should be granted, and Plaintiffs respectfully request that this Honorable Court:

- a) Grant Plaintiffs an injunction and enjoin Defendant, Prince George's County from:
  - i. Implementing the redistricting plan provided under CR-123-2021;
  - ii. Enforcing February 22, 2022 as the filing deadline for candidates for County Council until such time as a final judgment has been made by this Court as to the merits of this action; and

b) Grant such other and further relief as this case and the cause of justice requires.

Respectfully submitted,

By:

3 THE DEPUTY CLERK: Now calling number 8 on
4 the docket, CAL22-01728, Thurston v. Prince George's
5 County.

6 MR. SAWYER: Good afternoon, Your Honor.
7 Matthew Sawyer on behalf of the Plaintiffs, Robert
8 Thurston, Stephanie Stullich, Stanley Holmes and John 9 Perkins.

10 MR. KUMAR: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Raj
11 Kumar on behalf of Prince George's County.

12 THE COURT: All right. So, preliminarily, I
13 guess I'll ask since the County is here, I don't know
14 what you all, what the intention is. Did you all want
15 to have a hearing, essentially, on a preliminary 16 injunction since the County is here and represented as 17 opposed to a temporary restraining order? This at 18 least to me appears to be a legal issue, but I don't 19 know if you all have any disputes regarding the facts.

20 Are there facts that you all are willing to 21 agree to where we can do this whole thing today, or is 22 this going to require witnesses and testimony?

23 MR. SAWYER: Well, Your Honor, for the 24 Plaintiffs we came with witnesses and prepared for 25 testimony. That said, I would imagine that Counsel and

1 I could probably come up with, if there are any factual
2 disputes, we could probably stipulate to those, I would
3 imagine. I don't know that, obviously.

4 MR. KUMAR: Your Honor, the County's position
5 is that what the Court indicated this is a legal 6 question. I think the argument can be based on what is 7 in the complaint. Factually, nobody's disputing the 8 legislation that amended the charter. There's a legal 9 dispute as to what that means, but --

10 THE COURT: Okay. So that's what I want to 11 get at. So there's no issue regarding standing of the 12 Plaintiffs. There's no issues regarding the facts
13 about how the charter -- not the charter, but regarding 14 how the redistricting was done and the redistricting
15 law as -- and I'm, just put that in quotation marks --
16 that's on the books now. There's no dispute about how 17 all of that occurred based upon the complaint.

18 MR. KUMAR: You mean Section 305 of the 19 charter?

20 THE COURT: No, no. I'm saying in terms of 21 the factual basis for the complaint, there's no dispute
22 about the factual basis for the complaint. There's 23 just a dispute about the legal interpretation of 24 Section 305.

25 MR. KUMAR: I would agree with that because

1 the CR-123 outlines exactly what the council did in
2 adopting the plan and there is no dispute that we did
3 that.

4 THE COURT: Okay.

5 MR. KUMAR: And I don't, I haven't seen that 6 in the complaint because it based on public notice and 7 a hearing.

8 THE COURT: Okay. So we can do the whole
9 thing here and now. There won't be a need for some 10 later trial. And if someone wishes to appeal it, they 11 can take it from the final judgment that will be issued 12 today.

13 MR. KUMAR: I would agree with that because
14 this is a complaint of declaratory judgment and I'm 15 prepared to argue the central legal questions which I
16 believe overlap with the four -- there are four counts,
17 or five counts, and I believe two or three of them
18 overlap with the same remedy.

19 Obviously, my interpretation what's before
20 the Court is the charter amendment, the interpretation,
21 and then subsequently the February 22nd filing
22 deadline.

23 THE COURT: Okay.

24 MR. SAWYER: Your Honor, I just want to -- 25 I'm not quite clear exactly on what the Court was

1 asking.

2           THE COURT: Well, so here's the deal. The 3 council, I don't know if they have witnesses for today.
4 If this is a preliminary injunction I would do it, but 5 it would only be something that would last until 6 there's a final hearing. Under the rule, if the 7 parties agree and if I say, we can advance everything
8 to today and if it's essentially a legal question then
9 there can just be legal argument. I don't need to hear
10 witnesses if there's no dispute about the facts. And 11 what I hear from Mr. Kumar, he's not disputing the 12 facts that you allege.

13           So the issue is, is the passage of the 14 redistricting plan in its current state valid based 15 upon what you contend and based upon what the County
16 contends? So the issue is, am I going to hear legal 17 argument or am I going to hear witnesses and then have 18 to come back later? And what I'm hearing is based upon 19 if it's just going to be a legal argument, I can 20 advance the whole thing today. There is no need for a 21 later trial. It will be a permanent injunction or it 22 won't be.

23           MR. SAWYER: Your Honor, I'd want to consult
24 with my clients on that. We were prepared for a 25 temporary restraining order hearing as well as possibly

1 a preliminary injunction.

2 THE COURT: Right.

3 MR. SAWYER: That said, it is a legal
4 argument. I do believe it is indeed a legal argument.
5 There may be some areas of the legal argument that 6 aren't before the Court right now that we were -- I was 7 preparing to file a motion for summary judgment and 8 then a motion to expedite that summary judgment.

9 So I would rather, at this point, have more
10 of an opportunity to fully elucidate --

11 THE COURT: Okay. So, well, I'm going to 12 tell you one of the problems you have. Even if I do 13 what you're asking now, if you file a motion for 14 summary judgment, he has time to respond. One of the 15 things you haven't done is you haven't brought in the 16 Board of Elections. Because you're asking for -- the 17 County doesn't control the filing deadline. You
18 wouldn't meet the filing deadline based upon what 19 you're trying to do. So I can't do anything about the 20 filing deadline under the case as it is now.

21 MR. SAWYER: Your Honor, I'm not quite clear
22 that the County doesn't have some control over the 23 filing --

24 THE COURT: It does not. The County Board of 25 Elections is a creature of the State of Maryland. The

1 deadline for election filings that's a State issue.
2 That's not a County issue, so the County can't change
3 that.

4           MR. KUMAR: And also, Your Honor, for what
5 it's worth, the Maryland Court of Appeals has opined
6 twice, three times, since 1966 and onward, most 7 recently in 2018 that neither the courts nor the Board
8 of Election has any discretion in the filing deadline.
9 It must be adhered to, and the relief that is being 10 sought is to enjoin the County from enforcing the 11 deadline so that as a matter of law they cannot prevail
12 in the merits on.

13           THE COURT: Well, that I can tell you, I
14 can't tell the County to do anything about the filing
15 deadline.

16           MR. SAWYER: Well, Your Honor, we would argue
17 that this was a problem that was created by the County,
18 so to the extent that there's an issue with the Board
19 of Elections that is -- that's their problem to --

20           THE COURT: No. You are the Plaintiff. You
21 have to bring in all of the -- because if no one 22 complained it would be what it is, but you are 23 responsible for bringing in whatever parties you need
24 to advance your case. I'm telling you that because 25 election cases get advanced for appeals purposes we can

1 resolve it today one way or the other, and you all can
2 go wherever you need to go to get a further
3 determination if someone doesn't agree with what I do
4 here today.

5           But Mr. Kumar's saying the County doesn't
6 dispute the facts you allege, and at bottom the issue
7 is whether it's appropriate to pass the redistricting
8 plan via a resolution or is a law required. Once
9 that's determined that resolves all of the other issues
10 as I see it.

11           MR. KUMAR: I would agree with that 12 assessment, because the sole question here and all of 13 the counts are based on is premised on CB-55 of 2012
14 and Question A under CB-56 that was placed to the 15 voters and subsequently ratified and an election was 16 certified after that. And the charter was amended
17 pursuant to that Question A that was ratified. That is 18 the law.

19           The case from the Court of Appeals from 20 Maryland says once the question is ratified, it is an 21 effect of law. The dispute here is the interpretation
22 as to whether what Mr. Sawyer is saying is that because 23 the charter says --

24           THE COURT: Well, we'll get into --

25           MR. KUMAR: Yeah. Fair enough.

1           THE COURT: Yeah. We won't get into the 2 argument right now. I'm just trying to, you know, and 3 we're losing a lot of time here, but I'm just trying to 4 get to can we resolve this today. I mean I think and 5 maybe it's just what I'll do, I'll just say we'll do it
6 this way.

7           Mr. Kumar says he doesn't dispute what you
8 allege in your complaint. It is a legal question. The 9 Court finds it's a legal question. So what I prefer to 10 do and what I think is best for all of you is that I 11 hear your legal arguments regarding why what the 12 council did violates the law, and I'll hear from the 13 council as to why what they did is appropriate under 14 the law.

15           So that's my determination and if you all
16 disagree with that you can take it up with higher
17 authority.

18           All right, so I'll hear from you, Mr. Sawyer.

19           MR. SAWYER: Okay, Your Honor. Thank you.
20 So as the Court is aware, this case is a result of the 21 redistricting process that was undertaken by the County
22 Council. The state law puts together the framework for 23 the redistricting process and it provides the express 24 powers under which counties can enact legislation and 25 form a charter.

1           It's essentially, and the Maryland case law
2 has dictated this as well, it's essentially a local
3 constitution. Accordingly, since 1970, Prince George's
4 County has been a charter county governed by an elected
5 executive and a nine-member County Council. As I
6 mentioned, these certain powers are expressly delegated 7 to the County via the Express Powers Act which is in 8 Title 10 of the Local Government Article.

9           Section 10-102 and 10-202 provide that the 10 County can enact local laws concerning the express
11 powers that were delegated to them by the State.
12 Subtitle 3, Section 10-306 provides, of the same Local 13 Government Article, provides that a county may create
14 and revise election districts and precincts.

15          Accordingly, the Prince George's County charter
16 adopted language in Section 305 that outlines the 17 process for redistricting in Prince George's County.
18 This process was undertaken recently in 2021, which is 19 what brings us here today. A politically independent
20 commission was appointed. That politically independent 21 commission deliberated at length over the plan, they 22 came up with a plan and submitted that plan to the 23 County Council.

24          Section 305 holds that so long as the Council
25 passes no other law changing the plan -- that's one

1 law, the law changing the plan -- that that plan, the 2 commission's plan was to become law -- that's the
3 second law -- as of the last day of November as an act
4 of the council. That's law number 2. There's no doubt
5 that these are two different laws. There's a law
6 changing the proposal and then there is a law enacting
7 the plan of the commission. Those are two separate 8 laws.

9           In this situation, the council had other
10 plans. They attempted to change the plan, the 11 commission's plan or law number 1, but they did so via 12 the resolution and that resolution was CR-123-2021. I
13 may refer to that as simply the resolution.

14           However, you can't enact a law by resolution.
15 Section 317 of the charter is abundantly clear. It
16 states that the council shall enact no law except by a
17 bill. Section 1017(h) of the County charter states
18 that the word "shall" shall be construed as mandatory.
19 There's no wiggle room. The council passed no law
20 changing the proposal. They passed a resolution
21 changing the proposal.

22           Now the County's undoubtedly going to raise
23 the issue of the 2012 amendment that which is CB-55-
24 2012. I may refer to that as CB-55 or just the 25 amendment. And that amended language states that such

1 law shall be adopted by resolution of the County
2 Council upon notice and public hearing.

3           Now I want to read that in context. Again,
4 it states, Section 305 states, "If the council passes
5 no other law" -- again, that's law number 1 changing
6 the proposal -- "changing the proposal, then the plan
7 as submitted shall become law" -- law number 2 -- 8 "enacting as the last day of November as an act of the 9 council. Such law" -- it doesn't say laws, it says law
10 -- "shall be adopted by resolution of the County
11 Council upon notice and public hearing."

12           We believe that this amended language is 13 invalid. But first and foremost, you have to ask which 14 law is it referring to? There are undoubtedly two laws
15 that are referenced in Section 305 -- the law enacting
16 the proposal, which is a deliberated plan by a
17 politically independent body and it is eventually 18 passed by the Council, or the law changing the 19 proposal. That law was not deliberated by an 20 politically independent commission. It was only
21 considered by the Council. There's no check or no
22 balance

23           Even according to the County's own usage of 24 the amended language, which again we believe is invalid
25 on constitutional grounds, the law that is referenced

1 in such law shall be adopted by resolution of the 2 County Council is only referring to law number 2. Law
3 2 is the commission plan to be enacted by the council.
4 That was already vetted, already deliberated. That
5 could be potentially, according to the County's
6 reading, if CB-55 is not invalid could, in theory, be 7 adopted by resolution -- although again we would
8 strongly state that we believe it's invalid -- but law 9 1 cannot.

10           The law changing the proposal, the completely
11 unvetted, completely undeliberated law changing the 12 proposal can't be passed via resolution somehow. Law 1
13 is required to be deliberated and follow the normal
14 course of legislation in the charter. That didn't 15 happen. Instead, it was jammed through using the 16 resolution, again with no check, no balance, done
17 without executive approval and over massive public
18 outcry and opposition.

19           On November 16th, of the passage of the 20 resolution, over 150 people testified. Not one person
21 said this was a good idea. Not one person testified in 22 support of this resolution. Council didn't listen.
23 I'm not even sure they heard. If one were to have 24 watched the November 16th hearing, you would see a
25 variety of distracted people supposedly listening.

1           It didn't seem right to anyone watching that
2 hearing or the October hearings that what happened that 3 the council could take unilateral action like that.
4 And it didn't seem right, precisely because it wasn't.
5 Not only that, we believe again that the amended
6 language of Section 305, the CB-55 language that was 7 passed in 2012, we believe that that is invalid.

8           The use of a resolution is entirely invalid.
9 The County's powers to legislate the express powers are 10 not thereafter unlimited according to the Local 11 Government Article. Its powers are still restricted to 12 the extent that they are not preempted or in conflict
13 with public general law. That's from Section 10-
14 206(b).

15           The Express Powers Act enacts, authorizes the 16 County to enact legislation concerning redistricting.
17 It doesn't say that a county can do this or that the 18 council can do this on a whim. It's a law. Laws have 19 checks and balances. Section 305 authorizes a 20 resolution, albeit only for the passage of what I would 21 call law number 2, the commission's plan, not the 22 passage of a law changing the proposal.

23           I think if you go into Section 1017,
24 according to the County's reading of 2012, the entire 25 charter would basically have to be flipped on its head

1 or redefined. You go to the very definitions in 1017,
2 Section 1017, 1017(d), the word "law" shall be
3 construed as including all acts, public local laws,
4 ordinances, and other legislative acts of the council.

5           Now the County may like to latch onto 6 legislative acts, but the word "act" in further in 7 section (b), the word act, ordinance, public local law,
8 and legislative act when used in connection with any 9 action by the council shall be synonymous and shall 10 mean any bill enacted in the manner and form provided
11 in this charter.

12           Again, Charter Section 317 could not be 13 clearer. Every law of the County shall be styled, be 14 it enacted by the County Council of Prince George's 15 County, Maryland, the council shall enact no law except 16 by bill. The effects of using a resolution to jam
17 through legislation are vast. I'm not even sure what 18 the check on the County restructuring or, excuse me, 19 the council restructuring the charter entirely to be 20 via resolution. I don't know what would be the 21 restrictions on that.

22           There's no check on the power of the council,
23 simple up or down vote. Something as essential as 24 redistricting and dealing with elections not only does
25 it violate the charter, it goes against common sense.

1 It would give the County Council unfettered access to 2 change the districts however they wanted. There's 3 nothing to stop a majority of the council from 4 redistricting it in whatever way suits them politically
5 which is exactly what happened here. It's like the old
6 adage warning against letting foxes guard the henhouse.
7 It just doesn't make sense. It let's politicians
8 unilaterally determine who can and can't vote for them
9 and who can and can't run against them.

10           And if there's any doubt that any of this was 11 all political and politically motivated, the council
12 chair Calvin Hawkins was quoted in the Washington Post
13 as saying, "I'm not acting like I'm naive. I know this 14 is a political process. Everyone knew where everyone
15 lived." This was a purely political action that 16 usurped the authorized power from the County Executive.

18           As provided in Section 411 of the charter,
19 the County Executive is provided with the power that 20 states, "Upon the enactment of any bill by the council,
21 with the exception of such measures made expressly
22 exempt from the executive veto by this charter, it
23 shall be presented to the County Executive within ten
24 days for his approval or disapproval."

25           That didn't happen here. The County

1 Executive never gave her approval or a veto on this
2 resolution. Every bill except those that are expressly
3 exempt, every "potential law" is subject to the 4 approval of the executive. Again, that did not happen.
5 There was no executive approval or veto.

6           Section 305 also raises constitutional
7 concerns. Maryland case law holds again that a charter
8 is like a local constitution. It fixes -- I'm reading
9 from Atkinson v. Anne Arundel County -- fixes the 10 framework for the organization of the county
11 government. It established the agencies of local 12 government and provides for the allocation of power
13 among them. These are foundational issues. These are 14 constitutional issues. Bedrock issues of separation of 15 powers, due process and legislative process with checks
16 and balances.

17           Under separation of powers, Charter Section
18 102 provides for separation of powers between the 19 executive and the legislature. Charter section, excuse
20 me, Article 8 of Maryland's Constitution Declaration of 21 Right also provides for separation of powers in 22 government. This action usurps the power of the 23 executive to review and veto.

24           I'm going to read from Charter Section 102.
25 "The powers mentioned in the preceding section shall be

1 exercised only by the County Council, the County
2 Executive and other agents, officers and employees of 3 the County." These are the powers that are provided to 4 the County. And it says, "acting under their 5 respective authorities," so they are only allowed to 6 act within the authority of what has been provided by 7 the charter.

8           The charter does not provide the council the 9 ability to act as the executive and to pass laws.
10 Charter Section 402, "Executive Powers and Duties. All 11 executive power vested in Prince George's County by the 12 Constitution and the laws of Maryland and this charter
13 shall be vested in the County Executive." Not the 14 County Council, in the County Executive.
15 Maryland Constitution Article 8 that the legislative,
16 executive and judicial powers of government ought to be 17 forever separate and distinct from each other and that 18 no person exercising the functions of one said
19 department shall assume or discharge the duties of any 20 other. It's exactly what happened here. It's exactly 21 what the amended language of Section 305 provides for.

22           There's case law --

23           THE COURT: Let me -- so. Well, this is -- I
24 just want to -- is this an argument in the alternative?

25           MR. SAWYER: No, Your Honor.

1           THE COURT: All right, so you're not arguing
2 that in no way can -- it's not your position then that
3 it can be read that the resolution applies to the law,
4 whether it be the new law or the redistricting plan
5 that has not been changed by a new law. You're not 6 saying the resolution applies to that?

7           MR. SAWYER: I'm sorry. (Indiscernible
8 1:54:47), Your Honor.

9           THE COURT: So, for instance -- I'll make it
10 more clear. If the council had not amended the 11 redistricting plan and it became law automatically by - 12 - it became law by operation of law based upon the 13 charter, are you saying that then the council could not
14 have adopted that by resolution since it --

15           MR. SAWYER: According to the amended
16 language of Section 305 that is how the County is 17 reading that. And I would say that if -- again, Your 18 Honor --

19           THE COURT: I don't think the County is 20 reading it that way. They're actually not reading it
21 that way.

22           MR. SAWYER: I'm sorry. Then maybe I'm 23 misunderstanding, Your Honor.

24           THE COURT: I'm saying in the event that the 25 council did not amend the redistricting plan and it

1 became law by operation of law, could the council then
2 under 305 adopt the redistricting plan by resolution?
3 That's not your argument?

4           MR. SAWYER: That is if CB-55, if the amended
5 language is considered valid then that would be the 6 argument, yes. That's correct, Your Honor.

7           THE COURT: Right. Okay, so and what you're 8 arguing now, and that's why I'm asking, is this an 9 alternative argument?

10           MR. SAWYER: Well, there are two arguments,
11 Your Honor. Well, there are actually three arguments,
12 Your Honor. There's the last argument that the Court
13 just mentioned, but there's also the argument again
14 that these are two laws. There are two laws that are 15 referenced in Section 305 and the amended language
16 references one law. The amended language is talking 17 only about the law of the commission's plans becoming 18 law as an act of the council.

19           THE COURT: Okay, but that's where -- so, and 20 that's why I'm asking for clarification, because what 21 you're -- in one what you're saying now is CB-55 is 22 invalid. They can't do it by resolution. But --

23           MR. SAWYER: That's correct, Your Honor.

24           THE COURT: -- at the same time, you're 25 saying the resolution they can do it if it means X.

1 And that's why I was just asking if the argument you're 2 making now is alternative.

3 MR. SAWYER: I think -- I apologize, Your
4 Honor. I think I was misunderstanding the Court.
5 That's correct. So it's alternative in the sense that 6 if the amended language of 305 is considered valid,
7 it's only valid as to the law of the commission's plan.

9 MR. SAWYER: Although -- yeah.

10 THE COURT: All right. I'm sorry. Go ahead.
11 You can continue.

12 MR. SAWYER: There's also case law for the 13 separation of powers, Your Honor. It says if an office
14 -- and this is from Murphy v. Yates. It says if an 15 office is created by the --

16 MS. STULLICH: We'll see.

17 MR. SAWYER: Excuse me?

18 THE COURT: That -- I don't know.

19 MR. SAWYER: Ms. Stullich, could you -- I
20 think you're unmuted, Ms. Stullich.

21 THE COURT: Yes.

22 Ms. Stullich, if you could mute yourself.
23 Thank you.

24 MR. SAWYER: It says if an office is created 25 by Constitution and specific powers are granted or

1 duties are imposed by the Constitution, although 2 additional powers may be granted by statute, the 3 position can neither be abolished by statute nor
4 reduced to impotence by the transfer of duties
5 characteristic of office to another office created by 6 the legislature.

7           And that's also again, it goes to the 8 separation of powers that is in Article 8 of Maryland's
9 Constitution.

10           In Smiley v. Holm it says, the United States
11 Supreme Court looking at similar issues, "if the local 12 legislation calls for laws to be approved by the 13 executive as the authority is conferred for the purpose
14 of making laws for the State, it follows in the absence
15 of an indication of a contrary intent -- and that's in 16 the Constitution itself -- that the exercise of the 17 authority must be in accordance with the method which 18 the State has prescribed for a legislative enactment.

19           "We find no suggestion in the federal 20 constitutional provision an attempt to endow the 21 legislature of a State with power to enact laws in any 22 other manner than that which the Constitution of the 23 State has provided that law shall be enacted." Here,
24 the council assumed the executive's power under Section
25 411, and the council exceeded its respective authority.

1 This is not the legislation process, the legislative
2 process that was detailed in the charter. This is 3 legislation by fiat.

4           There are also due process concerns here.
5 Under Article 24 of Maryland's Constitution, the 6 County's action deprive the voting public, as the Court
7 will hear, without legislative due process under the 8 charter. It was wrong. The public's made their voices
9 heard. This isn't a resolution concerning trash pickup
10 days or something benign. This is talking about 11 matters that are foundational to the democracy. This 12 is about elections and the ability for elected
13 officials to manipulate the lines of their district
14 without any check and without any balance.

15           I don't think under any reading under any 16 bicameral or government system there is this type of 17 unfettered right to draw boundary lines. And it's not 18 what the charter has intended and it goes against the 19 totality of the charter. It goes against the totality
20 of the Constitution of Maryland. It goes against the 21 totality of the Constitution of the United States and 22 everybody's common-sense understanding of how elections
23 are supposed to take place.

24           This leads us to why we're here today. We 25 filed a four-count complaint. Count 1 for a

1 declaratory judgment declaring the commission's plan to
2 be law; Count 2, a writ of mandamus mandating
3 commission plan B law; and Count 3, declaratory
4 judgment declaring that CB-55, the 2012 amendment, is
5 invalid; and Count 4 for injunctive relief for a TRO
6 and preliminary injunction, which is again why we're 7 here today, this afternoon.

8 THE COURT: All right.

9 MR. SAWYER: For both -- Your Honor, I'm 10 still not quite clear whether the Court is wanting to 11 put on evidence as far as the irreparable hardship and 12 so on, the criteria under the temporary restraining 13 order or --

14 THE COURT: So we're not, so this is not a 15 temporary restraining order because and that's --

16 MR. SAWYER: That's fine, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: -- in a situation where the other
18 side isn't present.

19 MR. SAWYER: Understood, Your Honor. So I
20 mean as far as the legal argument is concerned that 21 would be the legal argument.

22 THE COURT: All right, thank you.

23 All right, Mr. Kumar.

24 MR. KUMAR: Thank you. Good afternoon and 25 may it please the Court and Counsel.

1           This complaint amounts to it is nine years,
2 two months and 22 days late as of today's date, and let
3 me explain what I mean by that. In 2012, there was CB-
4 55 of 2012 that was the mechanism to place Question A
5 on the ballot. The phraseology of the question was in 6 CB-56, which I submitted to the Court in my list of 7 exhibits.

8           In that bill, when it made it to the ballot
9 it was certified. In order for it to make it to the --

10           THE COURT: Hang on. Let's do this also, I
11 guess.

12           Did you, Mr. Sawyer, did you get County's
13 exhibits?

14           MR. SAWYER: Yes, Your Honor. I did.

15           THE COURT: Do you have any objection to the 16 Court receiving any of those exhibits?

17           MR. SAWYER: As far as them being --

18           THE COURT: For me to consider them.

19           MR. SAWYER: Your Honor, yes. That would 20 have --

21           THE COURT: Because he's referencing
22 something, CB-56.

23           MR. SAWYER: Yes. As far as the statutory,
24 the statutes, Your Honor, I would have no objection to 25 that. I believe there were some political campaign

1 notices or something like that. I intend to object to 2 those.

3 THE COURT: Those, I guess, the political
4 campaign stuff, is that necessary for your argument,
5 Mr. Kumar?

6 MR. KUMAR: No. I was just going to -- if we
7 were doing the TRO, I was going to use that to rebut
8 the affidavit of Mr. Thurston. But I'm not -- I don't 9 need that anymore.

10 THE COURT: Okay. So for the statutory
11 preservations, those exhibits will be admitted. What 12 numbers are those?

13 MR. KUMAR: Your Honor, on the exhibit list
14 they're not listed by number but by page number. I 15 consolidated all the exhibits and they have a table of 16 contents.

17 THE COURT: Okay.

18 MR. KUMAR: And they're titled by statutory
19 numbers. So I would agree for purposes of this hearing
20 I will not use the exhibit that starts on page 32 and 21 the exhibit that starts on page 34 because those are 22 the two things regarding the affidavit from Mr.
23 Thurston. I don't need those for purposes of where we 24 are today.

25 THE COURT: Right. With those being out of

1 consideration, do you have any objection? Because what
2 I'm going to do is, I'm going to -- that packet, I'm
3 just going to make that one exhibit and I won't --

4 MR. KUMAR: Okay.

5 THE COURT: -- consider pages 32 and 34.

6 MR. KUMAR: No problem.

7 THE COURT: Mr. Sawyer, are you agreeing with 8 that?

9 MR. SAWYER: Your Honor, they're marked up.
10 I would prefer to have an opportunity to mark them up
11 as well, if the Court's going to receive them as 12 exhibits.

13 THE COURT: Okay. Well, if CB- -- it's a 14 statutory provision?

15 MR. KUMAR: It is.

16 THE COURT: I can look it up. I don't need
17 it. All right, I don't need the exhibit.

18 MR. KUMAR: Everything -- yeah.

19 THE COURT: We'll just go -- if they're
20 statutory provisions I will look at them.

21 MR. KUMAR: Yes.

22 THE COURT: All right, thanks.

23 MR. KUMAR: And since that pause, Your Honor,
24 I agree with the Court. I have no objections to what 25 is being requested in the complaint as far as counts.

1 Phraseology and accusatory stuff I don't want to
2 dispute, necessarily, that for this hearing, but I just
3 want to make sure that we understand each other that I
4 understand the complaint's that been filed and --

5 THE COURT: I'm only considering the facts.

6 MR. KUMAR: Correct. Correct.

7 THE COURT: So in terms of for the complaint,
8 I'm only considering the facts. Everything that's in 9 the counts, that has to be proven to the extent that -- 10 but -- and then really only considering -- I'm not 11 considering the argumentative facts, only considering
12 the facts about days, times --

13 MR. KUMAR: Thank you.

14 THE COURT: -- action taken.

15 MR. KUMAR: And thank you for that 16 clarification and I agree.

17 THE COURT: All right.

18 MR. KUMAR: So with regard -- this whole 19 case, in my opinion, based on the case law, follows and 20 starts and ends with the CB-55. One, we know that it
21 got ratified so I'm not going to waste the Court's time
22 on that. What I want to focus on is the provision in 23 the law that talks about when you have to challenge a
24 question on the ballot. And that is on page, it starts
25 on page 40 of my exhibit list that talks about the

1 Election Article, election law, what is qualified to go
2 on a ballot, how it's done, and then you have to 3 challenge it.

4           THE COURT: Okay, so let me say this and this
5 might help you. I believe I can decide this issue
6 without addressing the constitutional question that's 7 been raised.

8           MR. KUMAR: Right.

9           THE COURT: So -- and under the law, where an 10 issue can be decided without addressing a
11 constitutional issue, the Court should just address
12 that issue. So I think I can decide this case without 13 addressing the constitutional issue. So I think we're 14 left with the language as it is, and I can decide this 15 case based upon the language in the charter as it is 16 presently without addressing the constitutional issues
17 that have been raised --

18          MR. KUMAR: Judge.

19          THE COURT: -- or what happened with CB-55.

20          MR. KUMAR: Oh, Judge, I'm not disagreeing
21 with that. What I'm saying is that --

22          THE COURT: No, I'm just saying you don't 23 have to get into the issue of whether CB-55 is valid or 24 not.

25          MR. KUMAR: Okay, fair enough. I just want

1 to for the record only, I just want to make sure that
2 under the Election Article a ballot question must be
3 challenged within a certain time after it goes on the 4 ballot. That was not done here. (Indiscernible
5 2:07:44) question.

6           Now I agree with the Court, the language has 7 now made it into the charter and the question then 8 becomes what does it mean? When you look at the 9 charter amendment language, I'll read the purpose
10 clause. It says, "For the purpose of proposing an 11 amendment to 305 of the charter to authorize 12 legislative action." Legislative action is addressed
13 in Section 1017 of the charter, and that is page 20 of 14 my exhibit list.

15           MR. SAWYER: Your Honor, I'm going to object.
16 This is -- the statute itself is unambiguous.
17 (Indiscernible 2:08:24).

18           THE COURT: Right. I'm going to only rule
19 based upon what's on the paper.

20           MR. KUMAR: No, no. I'm just responding to 21 his argument that we can't do it by resolution. That's 22 all I'm doing.

23           THE COURT: Okay.

24           MR. KUMAR: So in Section 1017, the amendment
25 language was to authorize legislative action which is

1 what made it into the charter. So then -

2 MR. SAWYER: That's misquoting the amended
3 language.

4 THE COURT: The language that's in the 5 charter is in the charter, but let him make his 6 argument. I'll give you an opportunity to rebut
7 anything he says.

8 MR. SAWYER: I understand, Your Honor. But 9 as far as misquoting the actual language that's in the 10 charter, it should be (indiscernible 2:09:08).

11 THE COURT: Well, so here's the thing, Mr.
12 Sawyer. I can read. So he can --

13 MR. SAWYER: Thank you, Your Honor.
14 (Indiscernible 2:09:15).

15 THE COURT: Let him. He let you go through 16 without interrupting, let him -- it's just -- it's an 17 argument so he gets to make it.

18 MR. SAWYER: Understood, Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: And then you can say your side.

20 MR. KUMAR: So under 1017 of Definitions and 21 Rules of Construction, it says that "the words act, 22 ordinance, public local law and legislative act shall 23 be synonymous and shall mean any bill enacted." So my 24 argument is that when the language made it into the 25 charter that such law shall be adopted by resolution,

1 what that means is that the County Council -- because 2 that amendment went in to do exactly what is a dispute
3 here.

4           Mr. Sawyer argues as the Court rightfully
5 pointed out, which is a very interesting paragraph in 6 his papers -- it's on page 7 of his memorandum, the 7 full second paragraph -- he says the word "resolution"
8 only applies to the law adopting the commission's plan,
9 which goes to what the Court observed just now, which 10 is he is agreeing that a law can be done by a 11 resolution. Then he is saying, no, for purposes of my 12 complaint, it can't be a resolution. And the reason 13 for that is they don't want the -- they don't like the 14 plan that the County passed. They want the 15 commission's plan.

16           So for their purposes, a resolution is a law
17 so long as it's the commission's plan. But it is not a 18 law if it's the council's plan. So my argument with 19 regard to the legal question is that the charter, and 20 it says so in Section 1014 which is on page 20 of the 21 exhibit of statutory parts that the charter, shall be 22 liberally construed to that end; therefore, when you
23 look at the charter, you look at all the provisions.
24 Clearly, Section 317 predated the charter amendment
25 language that caused that last sentence in 305 to

1 appear there. The legislatures knew it was there and 2 they added the last sentence so that the council may 3 pass a legislative redistricting act by resolution.

4           Mr. Sawyer argues there's two laws. The 5 Court correctly points it out that if the council did
6 nothing as of the last day of November by operation of 7 law, without any resolution or anything being done, the 8 commission's plans becomes the law. The last language
9 in 305 was specifically added.

10           THE COURT: Can I ask you one question?

11           MR. KUMAR: Council -- yes.

12           THE COURT: Prior to the passage of CB-55-
13 2012, when in the years since 1982, every ten years
14 after there was a redistricting plan, if the 15 redistricting plan adopted by a commission became law
16 did the council still go through the bill process to 17 adopt it?

18           MR. KUMAR: No. There are -- if you look at 19 the section under -- there are one or two, I think one
20 or two times where the council did not change the plan.

21           THE COURT: No, no. I'm talking about a
22 situation where they didn't change the plan.

23           MR. KUMAR: That's what I'm saying.

24           THE COURT: Did they then pass a bill
25 afterwards adopting the plan?

1 MR. KUMAR: No. No.

2 THE COURT: They just left it as it was?

3 MR. KUMAR: That's right. Because the 4 charter was always interpreted that if you don't act on 5 the commission's plan that is the plan that becomes the 6 law.

7 THE COURT: Okay.

8 MR. KUMAR: And this is why that legislative
9 history in CB-55 became important for our argument
10 because, remember, in 2012 is when it occurred which is 11 after we did the 2011 redistricting plan. And that is 12 significant to the outcome of this case because there 13 was no need to do this legislative amendment and having 14 that last sentence there if it was not the intent for 15 the council to adopt it by resolution, and that is 16 exactly what got ratified. So we take the view that 17 CR-123 did not violate the charter as an act of the 18 council approving a plan.

19 And the other reason I want to mention with 20 regard to 305, Mr. Sawyer makes a big deal over we 21 rushed this through and we didn't have deliberate
22 process. If you look at CR-123, which is in the 23 exhibits, the first document, we followed every single 24 procedure that is required for a bill. It was public
25 notice. There was a public hearing. There were work

1 sessions.

2           And as Mr. Sawyer pointed out, the public
3 came out in force against the council doing a different
4 plan, and do you know why they did that? Because they
5 were given the opportunity to view the plan. They saw
6 the plan. They engaged. They were fully informed
7 about what the council was doing. So this is kind of 8 weird that they're taking the position that we hid the 9 ball, we did something underhanded and we did not have 10 public input and process.

11           When the Court looks at CR-123, it is fully 12 documented with the actions of the council including 13 the participation of the public. And by the way, this 14 is one of the times where we've done a redistricting
15 and it has been -- if there's something that came out
16 of this pandemic everything was online. It's all
17 stored online. There was no in-person hearing where it
18 wasn't recorded or some meeting that wasn't recorded.
19 Everything is documented fully.

20           So on the first question, we take the view
21 that the Court should interpret the language in 305
22 consistent with CB-55 and rule that the resolution is a 23 valid law passed by the council pursuant to notice and 24 public hearing, which was done. There's no dispute
25 about that.

1           The second part is if you look at the last
2 paragraph of CR-123, Your Honor, it states, and which
3 goes to this complaint with the remedy they're asking
4 for, it says that -- this is Section 3 of the resolve
5 clause -- that the Clerk of the Council is hereby 6 directed to transmit a certified copy of the plan to 7 the Board of Elections on the day of adoption. That 8 occurred.

9           We, meaning the council, doesn't have this 10 plan anymore for implementation. Implementation is 11 done through the Board of Elections and that is 12 Election Article Section 2201. And it says there's a 13 County Board of Elections in each county, which we 14 know; each local board and its staff is subject to the 15 direction and authority of the State Board and is 16 accountable to the State Board for all actions
17 regarding the implementation of the requirements of 18 this Article.

19           The Board of Election implements the plan, 20 meaning that they --

21           THE COURT: Well, I mean that just means that 22 if someone goes to run for office, the Board has to 23 follow what the plan says with respect to what district
24 that person would be in. Not that they are responsible 25 for --

1 I don't know who you are, sir. We have
2 Marian. But don't make any gestures. All right.

3 That doesn't mean that they created it.

4 MR. KUMAR: No, no, no.

5 THE COURT: The issue here is the creation of 6 the plan and whether that followed the County charter.

7 MR. KUMAR: No. I'm not disputing that.
8 What I'm saying is that the relief that is being sought
9 is to enjoin the County from implementing the plan.
10 I'm not disputing that we created the plan.

11 THE COURT: Well, isn't the relief sought
12 that the original, the commission's plan be the plan
13 that is effective?

14 MR. KUMAR: What they're asking is to 15 invalidate CR-123 because it was not done by a bill.
16 The act of the council, they're saying, needed to be 17 done by a bill.

18 THE COURT: Right.

19 MR. KUMAR: That's the -- and if the Court,
20 they're saying that if the Court agrees that it had to 21 be done by a bill then you -- invalidates your 123, and 22 they're saying that you go back to the commission's 23 plan. So --

24 THE COURT: Because the time has passed for 25 the council to do something different.

1           MR. KUMAR: That's what they're saying. But
2 what I'm saying is that the council took an act.

3           THE COURT: I guess what you're saying is I
4 couldn't give them any relief because it -- but if I
5 find that CR-123 is invalid and that the commission's 6 plan is the plan, then that is the one that would have
7 to go to the Board of Elections.

8           MR. KUMAR: Right. But what I'm saying, Your 9 Honor, is that the commission's plan did not become law
10 on the last day of November because the council took an 11 act. The act that they took is to approve a different 12 plan.

13          THE COURT: Right.

14          MR. KUMAR: The challenge here is that the 15 plan, they're saying that the plan that was adopted or 16 approved had to be done by a bill and, obviously, we 17 are saying it can be done by a resolution.

18          THE COURT: No, and I understand that. I
19 guess what I'm saying is there is a relief, I guess,
20 that they're asking for and they can correct me if I'm 21 wrong, but that is that I invalidate Council Resolution
22 123. And by invalidating it, the commission's plan
23 becomes law.

24          MR. KUMAR: Right.

25          THE COURT: The commission plan is law and

1 that is what the Board of Elections would have to 2 follow.

3           MR. KUMAR: Right. But what I'm saying is 4 that the relief that they're asking, which is a writ of 5 mandamus because, remember, they're asking for a writ
6 of mandamus and there are two types of mandamus. One
7 is an administrative mandamus under the Rule 700. It
8 is unclear. They obviously did not cite the rule so we 9 have to agree that they're not seeking a mandamus under 10 the 700 rules. And even if they were, it would not be 11 applicable because it only applies to quasi-judicial 12 matters under the 700 rules and the case law is clear
13 on that. It's undisputed that that section doesn't 14 apply to legislative actions.

15           Then you have common law writ of mandamus.
16 Common law writ of mandamus which he doesn't articulate
17 in his papers but he's saying writ of mandamus would 18 mandate the commission's plan. We're saying that this 19 Court couldn't do that either because there's 20 discretion. When there's legislative discretion, a 21 writ of mandamus to direct a legislative body to 22 approve a plan or to mandate them to say this is the 23 law is not permissible here. That's the distinction
24 we're making with regard to their mandamus action.

25           What he's saying is when you -- so he wants -

1 - he's saying under the declaratory judgment act
2 declare the rights of the parties, I guess, to say I
3 declare CR-123 invalid; therefore, we revert back to 4 the commission's plan. That's the way I understand it.
5 I'm saying the Court can't go back and make the 6 commission's plan become effective on the last day of 7 November because there was an intervening act which is 8 the council's discretionary prerogative to create a
9 different plan.

10 THE COURT: Did they -- well, right. Okay.
11 Okay, all right. I mean I hear your argument. Go
12 ahead.

13 MR. KUMAR: Okay, yeah. But I do recognize 14 what the Court is saying.

15 THE COURT: But he's saying, I guess, let me
16 just say this.

17 MR. KUMAR: Yeah.

18 THE COURT: The Plaintiffs are saying that 19 that action by the council was invalid.

20 MR. KUMAR: No, I understand.

21 THE COURT: Okay.

22 MR. KUMAR: Yes. Yes. They're making a
23 procedural argument that the resolution was not a law.

24 THE COURT: Yes.

25 MR. KUMAR: (Indiscernible 2:23:10) charter.

1 And we all -- I presented my argument on 305 why it is,
2 why that law can be adopted by resolution. So there we 3 are on that part of it there.

4           With regard to the filing deadline, I think
5 the Court's, Your Honor's already agreed that you have,
6 you can't do anything about that. You can't enjoin the 7 County from the February deadline. That's the State
8 Board. And -- Court's indulgence one second.

9           I'm just looking at my notes to make sure I
10 didn't miss what I wanted to say on this, the 11 resolution part.

12           And, yes. So I want to go back and preserve
13 the record on this point that is central to our case.
14 We do not believe that this Court has the jurisdiction
15 to determine whether Section 305 was violated the way
16 the Plaintiffs have advanced their complaint because 17 the bill that authorized that last sentence in the 18 charter had to be challenged at the ballot box under 19 the Election Article and once the question was 20 ratified, the law that's in the charter is valid.

21           On what I'm saying is that is not -- they're 22 not challenging that the charter -- they cannot because 23 they missed the time. They cannot challenge the 24 amended charter because the amended charter, the time
25 to do that -- the ballot question to amend the charter

1 has passed.

2 THE COURT: I agree.

3 MR. KUMAR: Right. So what I'm saying is 4 that what the Court is looking at is the way 305 is 5 written based on the legislative history of how it got 6 written that way and it authorizes the council to adopt
7 a resolution to approve a redistricting plan; so
8 therefore, it cannot, CR-123 cannot be invalid absent
9 some other procedural irregularity such as we didn't
10 give notice or we didn't have a hearing or those kinds
11 of things.

12 THE COURT: So let me ask you because you're 13 referencing legislative history, are you saying the 14 language is ambiguous?

15 MR. KUMAR: No, no, no. I'm saying when you
16 -- the case is Lamone, Lamone versus -- the case is 17 from Maryland. It's called Lamone v. L-e-w-I-n. It's 18 460 Md. 450 and that is a Court of Appeals opinion and 19 they say on these type -- this was a ballot kind of 20 question as well. Interpreting the stuff, they say you
21 look at, you look at the legislative history to 22 understand why it was done even if the language there
23 is clear.

24 So all I'm saying is that because the 25 allegation was made against CB-55, it is critical for

1 the Court to look at CB-55. He has made that argument.
2 He's saying to invalidate CB-55.

3 MR. SAWYER: Your Honor, we're not -- I just 4 want to make sure that my objection is very clear. I'm 5 not arguing it as a ballot question, which is what the 6 case that Mr. Kumar references is referring to. I'm 7 arguing that it's invalid.

8 THE COURT: Right. Right, but he's already 9 stated that the time for arguing the validity of that 10 CB-55 was a lot -- has passed.

11 MR. SAWYER: That's correct, Your Honor, and 12 I'm not arguing that.

13 THE COURT: Okay. And I agree with that 14 argument.

15 MR. SAWYER: I'm not arguing that. Under 16 Counsel's argument, no provision in the charter would 17 ever be able to be judicially questioned at all.

18 MR. KUMAR: No.

19 MR. SAWYER: So if that's the case, we're 20 questioning the validity of the language of CB-55.
21 That's what we're questioning. We're not questioning
22 the ballot question.

23 MR. KUMAR: But that is the ballot question.

24 THE COURT: Well, CB-55 went to the ballot.

25 MR. SAWYER: That's correct, Your Honor. I'm

1 questioning the language. That language.

2           If we -- I'm calling it CB-55. If we want to 3 isolate it as the amending language or however we want
4 to characterize it or name it, it's the name that --

5           THE COURT: Okay. You're challenging the 6 language in the charter.

7           MR. SAWYER: That's correct, Your Honor.

8           THE COURT: Okay.

9           MR. KUMAR: Which is Question A.

10          THE COURT: Alternatively.

11          MR. KUMAR: Yeah, but which is Question A.
12 And I'm saying to the Court and Counsel that when you
13 look at the provision that is in the Election Article
14 that authorizes how you challenge a ballot question,
15 what this Court would be doing it would be usurping the 16 ratification of the -- because, remember, the language,
17 the last sentence in 305 is precisely Question A, the 18 ballot question. He's saying with no uncertain terms,
19 I am challenging that language.

20          MR. SAWYER: Your Honor, I'm not challenging
21 it as a ballot question though. Counsel keeps trying 22 to characterize it as a challenge to a ballot question.
23 I am not characterizing it as a ballot question. I'm 24 challenging that language and that language alone.

25          THE COURT: I understand.

1           MR. KUMAR: But the language cannot be
2 challenged now. It was a ballot question that there's 3 a procedure in the election.

4           THE COURT: All right. I'm going to tell
5 you, I am only going to interpret what the charter
6 means and what the actions that occurred here, what if 7 any effect that had.

8           MR. SAWYER: Thank you, Your Honor.

9           MR. KUMAR: Fair enough. I just want to be 10 very clear that I don't think that once the question
11 was ratified and it made it into the charter that is --
12 what they're arguing now is to say that that language
13 is -- and he doesn't make it any -- in no uncertain
14 terms he's arguing that it's invalid when it was 15 ratified by the voters. That's my argument. So if 16 it's ratified by the voters to amend the charter to 17 allow the council to adopt a plan by resolution,
18 they're backdooring a ballot question argument to this 19 Court saying, no, you can't do it by a resolution when 20 it was ratified.

21           So that's a central argument for us because 22 if that's the case, if a ballot question, an 23 unchallenged ballot question then can be subsequently 24 challenged after ratification and certification of an
25 election, then it renders meaningless the Election

1 Article that provides a specific process exclusive
2 remedy to challenge a ballot question.

3           So for those reasons, Your Honor, our 4 position is that the proper interpretation of the 5 charter section, the last sentence in 305, is 6 consistent with other provisions in the charter
7 including the definition of a resolution that has the 8 effect of law, which Mr. Sawyer talks about there's 1
9 law and 2 law, it all is consistent. The charter must 10 be liberally construed when the Court is looking at 11 what it means.

12           So for those reasons, Your Honor, I would 13 argue that based on how the Court has fashioned where 14 the case is today, deny the requested relief by the 15 Plaintiffs and rule that CR-123 was a valid legislative 16 act in approving the redistricting plan.

17           THE COURT: All right. Okay, I'm sorry. Go
18 ahead.

19           MR. KUMAR: And deny their relief about with 20 regard to the deadline. I think that's an open and 21 shut argument there.

22           THE COURT: All right. All right. If you
23 all can hang on.

24           Darnea, go into the 2:30.

25           All right, I have a matter I need to deal

1 with real quickly and I'll return. Hold on.

2 THE DEPUTY CLERK: Okay.

3 (Break in proceedings at 2:31:50 p.m. to 2:59:36
4 p.m.)

5 THE COURT: All right. Sorry about that.

6 MR. KUMAR: That's okay.

7 THE COURT: That took longer than I
8 anticipated.

9 MR. KUMAR: Judge, when it's appropriate, I
10 just have one comment.

11 THE COURT: Okay, hang on.

12 MR. KUMAR: If I may.

13 THE COURT: Okay, hang on.

14 (Pause.)

15 THE COURT: Okay, sorry. All right.

16 MR. KUMAR: That's okay.

17 THE COURT: Hang on a second. Mr. Sawyer's
18 back, all right. Yes.

19 MR. SAWYER: Thank you, Your Honor.

20 MR. KUMAR: Yeah. Just before Mr. Sawyer
21 does his reply or response, I just wanted to point the 22 Court to page 26 of my exhibits, which is the section
23 of the Express Powers Act, 10-206. And it says, 24 "Additional Legislative Powers. A county may pass any 25 ordinance, resolution or bylaw not inconsistent with

1 State law if it may aid in executing and enforcing any
2 power in this title, which is the Express Power Act, or 3 may aid in maintaining the peace, good government,
4 health and welfare of the county." There's a section
5 (b) with limitations in the express powers but that's 6 with State law.

7           So I would submit that that section along
8 with the charter provisions and the Express Power Act
9 authority that the County has that that is consistent
10 with the word "resolution" to adopt a redistricting
11 plan by the County Council.

12           THE COURT: Okay. Now I have a question.
13 You said that --

14           MR. KUMAR: Yes.

15           THE COURT: Where was that that you said a
16 resolution?

17           MR. KUMAR: It's in the Express Powers Act
18 Section 10-206. It says, "Additional Legislative 19 Powers," and it --

20           MR. SAWYER: Exhibit 26, Your Honor.

21           THE COURT: I'm sorry.

22           MR. SAWYER: Exhibit 26 of his exhibit
23 package.

24           THE COURT: Okay.

25           MR. KUMAR: It's page, yeah, Exhibit 26.

1           And that provision is Mr. Sawyer and I both
2 agree that the Express Powers Act is what gives us the
3 authority as a charter sort of our powers. The reason
4 I wanted the Court to be aware of that section is
5 because as I was indicating in my opening arguments
6 that the word "resolution" is used throughout the 7 charter and used throughout the -- not for in every 8 provision, obviously, but in the Express Powers Act to 9 authorize the council to execute its legislative 10 powers.

11           THE COURT: I guess that -- but does, is 12 there anything in there that says it's a substitute for 13 the term bill or law?

14           MR. KUMAR: Well, the word "resolution" as 15 the word resolution is used here in this additional 16 powers to execute a law. That's what it's saying.

17           MR. SAWYER: Your Honor, I would --

18           MR. KUMAR: (Indiscernible 3:04:05).

19           THE COURT: Hang on, hang on. Right. But to 20 execute a law, there has to be a law.

21           MR. KUMAR: Huh?

22           THE COURT: To execute a law, there has to be 23 a law.

24           MR. KUMAR: Right. And our charter defines a 25 resolution having the effect of law. Case law has

1 recognized --

2 THE COURT: Having the effect of law.

3 MR. KUMAR: Right.

4 THE COURT: Right. Then, well, that's -- it
5 has the effect of law, meaning -- but is it a law? And 6 I guess that's the argument that they have.

7 MR. SAWYER: That's correct, Your Honor.

8 MR. KUMAR: Right, right. I mean there's --

9 MR. SAWYER: And I would direct the Court if 10 in looking at that 10-206 there are, excuse me, there
11 are different wording.

12 THE COURT: I've read it.

13 MR. SAWYER: Is Counsel trying to say that a
14 bylaw is the same as a law, or is Counsel trying to say
15 that virtually anything that the council decides, any 16 ordinance, resolution or bylaw (indiscernible 3:04:59).

17 THE COURT: Well, he's actually finished his 18 argument. He wanted to point that last thing out. Is 19 there anything you want to say in rebuttal?

20 MR. SAWYER: Yes, Your Honor. I apologize
21 for overstepping.

22 THE COURT: Oh, no, no, no. That's no
23 problem. I understand.

24 MR. SAWYER: In 10-206, these are three
25 different terms -- ordinance, resolution and bylaw --

1 not inconsistent with State law, which I would argue
2 also State law says that they must enact legislation
3 concerning redistricting.

4           But I want to go back to something that
5 Counsel mentioned because there's a conflation of terms
6 and I think the Court is perceptive to this conflation
7 of terms in that a resolution cannot be a law. Those 8 are two very distinct things that one has its process
9 and what it is used for. A resolution has what it is 10 used for, temporary, and the effect of a law.

11           And the Court pointed out that that's not the 12 same as a law. Whereas, a law is simply a law. And 13 Charter Section 317 could not be clearer when it says
14 all laws shall be enacted by bill. The council
15 attempted to do this initially when it was changing its 16 plan. The council attempted via CB-115-2021. And then
17 instead, and for whatever reason, which remains unknown
18 at this time, decided to use a resolution.

19           But another point that Counsel made or raised
20 is this ballot question, whether it's a ballot question
21 or can be questioned. This is a charter provision. We 22 are questioning this as a charter provision, not as a 23 ballot question. We are saying that this language of 24 the charter is simply invalid. So the ballot question,
25 to me, otherwise, we would never be able to ever

1 question any charter provision under Counsel's
2 argument. Essentially, they are all ballot questions
3 in some ways.

4           So if by nothing else because them not being
5 subject to referendum one could make that case.

6           THE COURT: It's invalid if I determine that 7 it means it's a law.

8           MR. SAWYER: That's correct, Your Honor.

9           THE COURT: Right.

10           MR. SAWYER: And I would also say that this 11 provision, although it is ten years old, has never been 12 tested. This has never been tested. So this portion,
13 whether it -- and I would proffer for the Court that 14 previously things had been done by a bill and any 15 change had been done by a bill with subject to the 16 County Executive's veto. So to Counsel's point, this 17 has never been tested. This may be ten years old but 18 it's never been tested, so this is the first time this 19 is being tested.

20           THE COURT: Well, right. This is the first 21 election after the change.

22           MR. SAWYER: That's correct, Your Honor.

23 Thank you. Sometimes I get out of myself with my 24 articulation, but thank you, Your Honor.

25           If the Court allows somehow a law to be a

1 resolution, where does that end? Does that end as we
2 would argue that if indeed the Court does allow, does
3 provide that for some reason the amended language in 4 305 is valid somehow, it unambiguously only applies to 5 the law passing the commission's plan and report.

6           Again, there are two laws in Section 305 and 7 the language of the -- the amended language simply 8 says, "such law." It does not say such laws. It does
9 not say such legislative actions. It says such law,
10 and that is modifying, simply, the commission's plan
11 and report as an act, it does say, as an act of the 12 council.

13           So the fact that this is to be that 14 potentially, again if the Court determined that that 15 amended language again that somehow a resolution could 16 be a law, it only applies and modifies the law of the 17 commission's plan and report becoming law. It does not 18 modify or does not affect the plan changing the 19 commission's proposal. Again, that plan was 20 deliberated. That plan was, you know, a process, a 21 politically independent process which is, this is where 22 the common sense of this. I mean you look at the 23 totality of the charter and we are to read and the case
24 law specifically states that you are to read these 25 things in totality. You read this with all of the 1 provisions.

2           If in Counsel's reading of 305 it renders
3 three out of the -- or three or four of the definitions
4 under 1017 completely pointless because, completely
5 meaningless. One, it's a definition of a resolution.
6 And these are all -- these are not just, you know, some 7 people sitting around hoping and sort of, "oh, yeah, it
8 might need this or that." These are thought-out
9 specific terms again just like "such law" is a thought-
10 out and specific term.

11           We don't need to look at the legislative 12 intent. We don't need to look at the legislative 13 history. We have unambiguous terms that say such law, 14 which is in reference to the Commission's plan and 15 report. Any other holding, any other holding outside 16 of declaring the language that was in CB-55 other than 17 declaring that invalid, any other reading of this 18 renders so much of the charter inapposite and impotent, 19 basically.

20           I want to make clear the argument so --
21 because it seems that there was some confusion maybe a
22 little bit about the argument and I'm certain that --

23           THE COURT: I'm not confused.

24           MR. SAWYER: Okay. I was going to say I'm 25 certain it's my fault, Your Honor, if that's the case.

1 THE COURT: I'm not confused, you know, no.
2 I'm not confused. I see this as, I guess, more -- I
3 see this more simply than you in terms of addressing it
4 in an alternative fashion. That's just how I see it.

5 MR. SAWYER: Okay. Thank you, Your Honor.
6 Thank you. Thank you. And I appreciate that.

7 So I would just, again there is no path for a
8 resolution to become a law. And again, if it does, if 9 the Court sees that there is a path for a resolution to 10 be a law that resolution or that law that it becomes is 11 only talking about the commission's plan and report
12 becoming "law."

13 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

14 MR. SAWYER: Thank you, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: All right. So this matter is 16 before the Court on the Plaintiff's complaint for 17 preliminary injunction, permanent injunction,
18 declaratory relief, declaratory and injunctive relief
19 and for a writ of mandamus. The Plaintiffs are Robert
20 Thurston, Stephanie Stulich, John Perkins and Stanley
21 Holmes. There are no disputes of fact for the purposes
22 of this proceeding and the Court's ruling. There's no
23 issue of standing regarding the Plaintiffs. The Court
24 adopts and incorporates by reference the facts as 25 alleged in the complaint regarding the council's

1 actions. And the statutes charter, they're self-
2 evident as legal documents.

3           So the issue as this Court sees it is whether 4 the Council Resolution CR-123-2021 is effective. That 5 is, did it lawfully amend the redistricting plan
6 adopted by the County's commission on redistricting
7 that was presented to the council on September 21st,
8 2021 in accordance with County Charter Article 3
9 Section 305.

10           So we know that every ten years a charter
11 commission is established for the purposes of 12 redistricting in the county. It's no different and 13 this has been since 1982, and it's been every ten years
14 since that time, the group that's supposed to present
15 to the council by September the 1st any plan that they 16 come up with, which was done in this case.

17           Now after the plan was presented to the 18 council, what happened is the council amended the plan.
19 They changed the plan and presented their own plan and 20 then that plan was adopted by Council Resolution 123-
21 2021. And the Plaintiffs' complaint is, one, that they 22 can't do it by resolution if, in fact, Charter Section
23 305 is to be read that the council's new law is being 24 done by a resolution here, which seems to be -- and you
25 can correct me if I'm wrong, Mr. Kumar -- is the

1 County's position that the new law has been adopted by
2 resolution and that's CR-123-2021, correct?

3 MR. KUMAR: Yes, the council's redistricting
4 plan was adopted through CR-123.

5 THE COURT: The resolution.

6 MR. KUMAR: Yes.

7 THE COURT: All right. So -- and I think
8 that's the issue. So the issue as this Court sees it
9 is how is this statute to be read. And I'm going to 10 read certain portions of Charter Section 305, but 11 before I do that I do think I need to address, you
12 know, certain statutory provisions.

13 The charter defines the word "bill" to mean
14 any measure introduced in the council for legislative 15 action, and it defines as any bill enacted in a manner
16 and form provided in this charter. And there's Charter
17 Section 317 which says all laws shall be enacted by a 18 bill. And then there's a council resolution which has 19 a meaning as a measure adopted by the council having 20 the force and effect of a law but of a temporary or 21 administrative character. And I think that of 22 administrative character is important to determining 23 what Section 305 means.

24 Now I don't know what was intended and I
25 don't think the legislative history does in terms of

1 that this was going to be an act for legislative
2 action. What it meant in term -- I don't think it
3 changes for me, my interpretation of the statute. So
4 Section 305 of the charter regarding redistricting,
5 everything in the beginning of this charter provision
6 has been followed as agreed by the parties.

7           Now we get to September 1st of the year prior 8 in which the redistricting is to be effective, "the 9 commission shall prepare, publish and make available a
10 plan of council districts and shall present that plan
11 together with a report explaining it to the council."
12 That was done here. "The plan shall provide for 13 council districts that are compact, contiguous and 14 equal in population." And the Plaintiffs allege that 15 that, the plan submitted by the commission met that 16 form. "No less than 15 calendar days and no more than 17 30 calendar days after receiving the commission plan
18 that council shall hold a public hearing on the plan."
19 That was done.

20           Now this is the important part. If the 21 council passes no other law -- that's a clause; the 22 sentence then goes on to say, "No other law changing 23 the proposal," meaning the commission's proposed plan,
24 "then the plan presented by the commission," as adopted
25 -- "as submitted," sorry, "as submitted, shall become

1 law as of the last day of November as an act of the 2 council subject to Sections 320 and 321 of the 3 charter," which don't really have any relevance for our 4 purposes. "Such law shall be adopted by resolution of 5 the county council upon notice and public hearing."

6 And we had a notice and public hearing for the 7 resolution, but the council believed that it could
8 change the plan through this process and by resolution.

9           How the Court reads the sentence preceding
10 the new language is this: There's a clause that says
11 if the council passes no other law changing the 12 proposal and the Court finds that to change the law
13 that council has to submit a bill and enact it, then 14 "the plan, as submitted, shall become law." And that's 15 the sentence. That's the active sentence there, "the 16 plan shall become law." The Court reads such law as 17 relating back to the plan that becomes law in November.
18 That's how the Court reads that. And the resolution is 19 of an administrative character, that it's a resolution
20 adopting the plan that by operation of law becomes law.

21           And based on the Court's interpretation, the 22 council's action, the Court finds, is invalid and the 23 Court declares that the council's action to the extent
24 that it attempted to change the Commission's plan via 25 resolution is invalid. And the Court declares that the

1 commission's plan, which was submitted and which was 2 not changed by a law, by any other law, became 3 effective on the last day of November as an act of the 4 council. Therefore, it is the districts as they are 5 proposed in the commission's plan that are effective as 6 opposed to the plan submitted by the council.

7           So that is the Court's decision. The council
8 must submit to the Board of Elections the commission's 9 plan as the redistricting plan for Prince George's
10 County that establish the districts for the election
11 that is to occur between now and 2032.

12           All right?

13           MR. SAWYER: Thank you, Your Honor.

14           THE COURT: Thank you all very much. The 15 Court will issue an order to that effect.

16           MR. SAWYER: Thank you, Your Honor.

17           MR. KUMAR: Thank you.

18           MR. SAWYER: May we be excused, Your Honor?

19           THE COURT: Thank you. Yes, you may.

20           MR. SAWYER: Thank you.

ORDER OF COURT AND DECLARATORY JUDGMENT

The above-captioned came before the court for hearing on January 28, 2022, on Plaintiffs' motion for temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction to enjoin Prince George's County, Maryland ("County"), from applying a redistricting map. Because the operative facts are not in dispute and the issue to be decided is strictly a question of law, the court advanced and consolidated the hearing with a trial on the merits. The court adopts and incorporates by reference the undisputed facts in the Plaintiffs' verified complaint to the extent that they describe the process by which the commission on redistricting's plan was submitted to the County Council ("Council") and the Council's actions in response leading up to and including the passage of CR-123-2021.

Accordingly, for the reasons stated on the record, it is this 31st day of January, 2022, by the Circuit Court for Prince George's County, Maryland,

DECLARED that County Charter § 317 prohibits the Council from enacting any law "except by bill"; and it is further

DECLARED that pursuant to Charter § 305, the only manner by which the Council can change the redistricting plan submitted by the commission on redistricting ("Commission") is by passing a law; and it is further

DECLARED that under the County's Charter, a resolution, while having the effect of law, is not a substitute for a law; and it is further

DECLARED that the passage of CR-123-2021 is not effective to the extent its intent is to serve as a "law changing the [Commission's plan]"; and it is further

DECLARED that since no other law has been passed changing the Commission's plan submitted to the Council on September 1, 2021, the Commission's plan became law on November 30, 2021; and it is

ORDERED that Prince George's County, Maryland, and/or the Prince George's County Council is permanently enjoined from acting upon, implementing, or otherwise presenting the redistricting plan in CR-123-2021 to any entity charged with acting upon or implementing the County's redistricting plan; and it is further

If more than one-third but less than the full number of signatures required to complete any referendum petition against such law be filed within forty-five calendar days from the date the bill becomes law, the effective date of the law, and the time for filing the remainder of signatures to complete the petition shall be extended for an additional forty-five calendar days. If such a petition is filed, the law to be referred shall not take effect until thirty calendar days after its approval by a majority of the qualified voters of the County voting thereon at the next ensuing regular election held for members of the House of Representatives of the United States. An emergency law shall remain in force from the date it becomes law notwithstanding the filing of such petition, but shall stand repealed thirty calendar days after having been rejected by a majority of the qualified voters of the County voting thereon. A petition may consist of several papers, but each paper shall contain the text or a fair summary of the law being petitioned upon; and there shall be attached to each such paper an affidavit of the person procuring the signatures thereon that, to the said person's own personal knowledge, each signature thereon is genuine and bona fide, and that, to the best of his knowledge, information, and belief, the signers are qualified voters of Prince George's County, as set opposite their names. A minor variation in the signature of a petitioner between his signature on a petition and that on the voter registration records shall not invalidate the signature. The invalidation of one signature on a referendum petition shall not serve to invalidate any other signature on the petition. Each petitioner shall include his address and the date of his signature opposite his name. The Board of Supervisors of Elections shall verify the qualification of said petitioners.
